PRIMARIES SUPPORTED BY CABLE

Lima Congressman to be Candidate Despite State "Slate"

OFFICIAL STATEMENT GIVEN

Forces Are Lining up Against City Leader Domination

Congressman John L. Cable, of Lima, will be a candidate for Republican nomination for governor at the August primary whether or not the state organization picks a slate at the pre-primary convention on May 20.

This announcement was made by Cable in a statement to The Lima News Thursday. The statement sent from Washington is as follows:

"I believe absolutely and emphatically in the primaries for nomination of candidates and expect to have my name on the ballot for governor irrespective of the result at the pre-primary convention."

This statement is the result of the calling by the state Republican central committee of a pre-primary convention to pick the candidates for nomination that will be supported by the state organization. This, it is pointed out, would work to the disadvantage of those candidates not selected.

Already political leaders thruout the state and district are taking a stand against the state central committee as they believe the action on the part of the committee is a direct attack on the direct primary system and an attempt by the city leaders to control the state government.

PRIMARY HIT

Statements made by leaders of the Republican party at Columbus this week during the meeting of the state central committee, indicate that they believe the primary system on the wane and are determined to use every effort to hurry its demise.

At the same time, it is asserted that city leaders led by R. K. Hynicka, of Cincinnati, are preparing to line up a state slate headed by Congressman James T. Begg, of Sandusky, who was born and raised in Monroe-tp, Allen-co, and who was superintendent of the Columbus Grove schools at one time.

Begg has been one of the administration workers in Washington and it is understood that the state leaders wish to guarantee him the governorship nomination without the necessity of a hot primary campaign.

Other candidates, however, led by Cable and Harry L. Davis, former governor, will put up a strong fight and should sufficient pressure be exerted by the country delegates the convention may adjourn without picking its slate, friends of Cable assert.

Political leaders are watching developments in the belief that different factions may cause a split in the Republican ranks during and after the primary and thus weaken the party in the November election. This would work to the advantage of the Democratic nominee who will have the united support of his party, it is believed.

Cable's announcement of his stand has cleared the atmosphere to a great extent and it is believed the pre-convention plan may not work out as the city leaders plan. Cable is expected to officially enter the governorship race within the next few days.

AWARDED $55,000

Sum Won by Philadelphia Woman in Love Suit

PHILADELPHIA —(United Press)—Mrs. Maud N. Sherritt, suing Mrs. Edith Fowler, attractive young widow for the alienation of her husband's affections, was awarded $55,000 heart balm after a jury had deliberated the case four hours.

The award is declared to be the largest of its kind ever made in the local courts. It is divided into $30,000 as compensatory damages to reimburse Mrs. Sheritt for her financial losses by the episode and $25,000 punitive damages.

The case grew out of charges of "petting parties" and "lingering kisses" in which Max Sheritt, husband of Mrs. Maud Sheritt and Mrs. Fowler are alleged to have indulged.

Sheritt is now declared to be in the west and Mrs. Fowler is traveling abroad.

SPEED? WELL, NOT EXACTLY

One of Lima's policemen is under a cloud following charges by higher-ups in the department and at City Hall. Jess Hargrove, member of the detective bureau, is really under suspension. He is not on duty and has not been since Monday.

Last Monday Manager Bingham and Chief Lanker asked City Solicitor Paul Landis for a legal opinion in this matter. The opinion has not been submitted and Landis told a representative of The Lima News Thursday that he had not "thought about it," giving as his reason that he had been too busy. He said he didn't know when he would have it ready.

Bingham said Thursday that the Hargrove case rests upon Landis' decision. Nothing can be done in the matter, the manager said, until this ruling is received from the legal department. Hence the slow service the city is getting from its legal department is holding up a case in which the taxpayers are interested in various ways, particularly financially.

Only a few days ago the city commission authorized the expenditure of $2,000 to pay special counsel to assist the regular city solicitor, who receives $3,500 a year from the city, in defending a law suit now pending.

Maybe the city should have an assistant to get out a ruling on the Hargrove case. If the taxpayers are to get service like this on all legal matters, why not hire an assistant to help the solicitor to "think" about Lima's business, Mr. Bingham? Of course we haven't the money, but we might go in debt for the service.

BATTLE STAGED IN HOTEL

2 OHIOANS ADMIT PART IN FRAUD CONSPIRACY

Enter Pleas of Guilty at Liquor Trial in Covington

LANGLEY CASE GOES ON

Hearing of Action Against Congressman Speeded Up

COVINGTON, Ky. — (Associated Press) — Withdrawal of not guilty pleas by M. E. Huth, Alliance, Ohio, and Walter B Carey, Canton, Ohio, being tried jointly with Congressman John W Langley, Kentucky, and two other defendants on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government thru illegal removal of whisky from a government warehouse in 1921, and substitution of pleas of guilty, is expected to speed up the trial before Judge Cochran in federal court here.

The change in pleas will result in dismissal of witnesses who were to testify for and against Huth and Carey, United States District Attorney Smith, directing the prosecution, said.

MAY REST TODAY

Prosecution counsel expect to conclude the government's case today if defense admits there is no "Lewis Drug Co." on Front-st, in Philadelphia, to which quantities of whisky were consigned in 1921. Evidence previously introduced showed no "Lewis Drug Co" at the address mentioned and District Attorney Smith charged the drug company named was a "blind to avoid suspicion of liquor shipments.

Unless defense admits this point, prosecution will produce additional witnesses to prove the drug company did not exist, District Attorney Smith said.

Defense counsel have not yet intimated who will be the first witness for Langley, Milton Lipschutz and Albert F Slater, both of Philadelphia, who are on trial with the congressman.

Testimony offered at the early session today was of a technical nature, involving identification of signatures of Langley on hotel registers at Lexington and Louisville.

Gus Schwarzkopf, mentioned in testimony yesterday as attending conferences in Lexington and Louisville with Langley, Mortimer, Huth, Lipschutz, Thomas J. Finn and Carey to discuss permits for removal of whisky, was placed on the stand by the prosecution.

He told of conversations between Langley and Federal Prohibition Director Sam Collins of Kentucky and of Collins' refusal to furnish permits. He said Langley had told them before coming to Kentucky that "he thought he could fix Collins". His trips to Kentucky were made during September, October and November, 1921. Langley was on several of the trips, the witness said. He said that on November 13 he met Lipschutz at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington by appointment and that Lipschutz registered under the name of "J. K. Matthews". Ruth, Thomas J Finn and Carey came to their rooms and Finn brought $2,000 and gave it to Lipschutz, the witness testified. "Finn said he would bring the balance as soon as he could get it. On Tuesday, two days later, Huth came to our room with a bag containing $28,000 and gave it to Lipschutz. We sat down at a table and counted the money. It was the balance on the $30,000 due Lipschutz on the permit to remove whisky.

"Huth brought the money to us about 11 o'clock at night and we took a night train for Philadelphia, where we went to a hotel and met J. Eichenberg and Lipschutz' father. Lipschutz' father counted the money again and gave each of us a little less than $4,000. Eichenberg had told us in Kentucky he could get permits for us in Philadelphia for 1400 cases of whisky at $30 per case."

ALLEN NAMED ENGINEER OF COUNTY SANITARY SEWERAGE DISTRICT JOB

Surprise Follows Appointment of Dayton Man by Officials

COMPENSATION IS LESS

Commissioners Defy Injunction Threat of Land Holders

Contract under which K B Allen, of Dayton, is employed as consulting engineer on the county sanitary sewer district created west of Lima, was signed Thursday by Allen-co commissioners. One commissioner declined to vote, the record shows.

Allen's employment for the work came as a complete surprise. It had been expected that Fuller & McClintock, of Cleveland and New York, recommended by a committee of property owners, would be favored.

Compensation for the work is fixed at five percent of the cost of construction—instead of seven per cent as stipulated in the contract submitted on January 29.

Lowering of the price, Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott said, will save the property owners $100,000.

Attempts previously made to award Allen the contract were blocked by injunction action threatened by property owners if the work was awarded to him.

THREATS OF CIVIL SUITS

Allen in turn threatened suit against the county, it was learned Thursday, unless he was awarded the job. He held an agreement signed by part of the county board which might have been found binding by the courts. The prosecuting attorney had not signed the paper, however.

Apprehension that the construction of the district might be delayed for several years if the matter was carried to court, induced the commissioners to sign up a new agree-

World Journey is Halted by Snow and Fog

ON BOARD UNITED STATES COAST GUARD CUTTER HAIDA, AT ATKA, Alaska — (By Wireless to the Associated Press) — Snow and fog, it was feared, probably will prevent a hop off today of three United States army air cruisers from Atka Island for Attu Island, on the western end of the Aleutian archipelago.

Everything was in readiness yesterday for the 530 mile jump but unfavorable weather conditions delayed the departure of the planes. A heavy fog hung over this territory most of the day while snow fell at intervals.

No word has been picked up by the coast guard cutter Haida a wireless as to the whereabouts of Major Frederick L. Martin, missing commander of the expedition.

FANATIC SLAIN IN HIS DEFIANCE OF POLICE

Kansas City Hostelry is Scene of Unusual Tragedy

GUN, BIBLE USED AS ARMS

Bullet Victim Believed Crazed on Religious Subject

KANSAS CITY, Mo —(United Press)—Peter Gaston, who walked into the lobby of the Federal Hotel here today with a Bible in one hand and a revolver in the other, was shot and killed in a battle with police 15 minutes later.

Authorities believed he was a religious fanatic. Papers found in his pocket indicated he was from Pierpont, Mich.

Passengers at the Union Station were astonished at 7 a m when doors of the car of a train arriving from the north opened and Gaston, dressed in high leather boots, corduroy trousers and wide brimmed cowboy hat alighted. He had a cocked revolver in one hand, finger on the trigger. In the other he carried a Bible.

WALKS TO HOTEL

He hurriedly left the station and walked to the business district of the city to the hotel. Four men were seated in the lobby. He registered, changing his revolver to his left hand as he penned his name. He placed his Bible on the cigar counter. Then he turned on the guests in the lobby and calmly asked:

"All of you men believe in God?"

The hotel guests mumbled a reply.

Bell boys dashed for the elevator. The clerk dodged behind a counter and called police.

"All of you put your left hand on the Bible and your right hand on your heart," the fanatic continued.

The hotel clerk, seated at the switchboard, called George Fleischer, a federal narcotic agent, who lives at the hotel.

As the four men placed their hands on the Bible, Gaston turned to one and demanded:

"Where is the girl you stole from me a year ago at the North Hotel?"

"I'll go get her," a guest replied anxious for an opportunity to get away.

At this point Fleischer clad in a bath robe and carrying a revolver, appeared on the stairway. Simultaneously a police car stopped in front of the hotel. Noticing the patrolmen's uniforms Gaston opened fire at the officers. Fleischer started shooting from the rear and killed the fanatic instantly.

COLUMBUS — (United Press)—Anthony De Martino, a jeweler, is reported in a critical condition in a local hospital today as a result of being beaten and robbed of $4,000 in cash and $3,000 in jewelry by bandits late last night.

De Martino was severely beaten by the bandits and then hurled into the cellar of his jewelry store. He is suffering from a fractured skull, but there is some chance that he may recover.

Police and detectives scoured the city in an effort to locate perpetrators of the crime.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL PAY IMPROVEMENT COST

Petitions Will be Presented to Commissioners on Monday

BINGHAM APPROVES PLAN

Manager Favors Repair of Space From Kibby-st South

Petitions seeking the paving with brick of S Main-st from the L. E. & W. tracks south of Fourth-st were in circulation Thursday and will be presented to city commissioners Monday night for approval.

Property owners petitioning the improvement will bear the entire cost of the pavement which will connect with the S. Main-st pavement.

Simultaneous with presentation of the citizens' petition, City Manager C. A. Bingham will appear before the commissioners and intercede for the resurfacing of S Main-st from Kibby-st, south to the L. E. & W. tracks.

Improvement of this portion of the street which has crumbled under heavy traffic will make a direct improved route of travel thru from the Pennsylvania tracks in N. Main-st when the Main-st job from the Ottawa river is completed.

Work on Main-st paving is to start within two weeks, according to George B. Walther, contractor. The start will be at the south terminus at the Ottawa river and proceed north on the west side of the tracks only to the northern terminus at the Pennsylvania tracks and then double back on the east side of the tracks to the Ottawa river.

REPAIRS ARE NEEDED

South of Ottawa river to Kibby-st the thorofare has been improved and is travel smooth. From Kibby-st south the street is greatly in need of repairs, Manager Bingham says. He advocates the utilization of a portion of the automobile license fund for this project as the money can used only for repair of improved streets within the city.

Main-st is the important artery of travel thru Lima to Wapakoneta and other cities south of Lima and Manager Bingham believes that the city should spend the automobile license fund to repair the space between the tracks and Kibby-st and that commissioners should favorably receive the petitions of S. Main-st property owners.

Proposed opening in June of the Metcalf-st overhead provides an open gateway of travel thru the city and eliminates grade crossing hazards, but Manager Bingham believes the importance of S. Main-st as an artery for intercepting street traffic and use by manufacturing plants justifies the expenditure by the city of the automobile license fund for resurfacing.

HIGH-ST. ELIMINATED

During the past two weeks four gangs of workmen have been busy patching improved streets in the city. This work is paid for by the auto license fund.

Resurfacing of E. High-st from the B & O. tracks to Main-st was proposed several months ago by City Manager Bingham as it provided Central fire department and police officers with an open way of travel in answering calls, but with the placing in circulation of the petitions for S Main-st improvement Manager Bingham believes High-st is secondary in importance and recommends the S Main-st improvement first.

DELPHOS TO GET COUNTY FAIR

Annual Exhibition is Lost to Lima Thru Title Decision

The Allen co fair has been lost to Lima.

This was apparent Thursday with the announcement by A. J. Shenk, Delphos, secretary of the Tri county Fair board, that a charter has been received from Thad H Brown, secretary of state, giving that organization the name of the Allen-co Agricultural Society, Inc.

Five Allen co officials of the Delphos Tri county Fair association are the incorporators of the new society which will take the place of the organization which staged annual fairs at the Lima Driving park. They are H A Lang, A J Shenk, W J Steinle, Roy Hoverman and R. H Jettinghoff.

Capital of the company will be $3,000 divided into 3,000 shares with a par value of $1 each. This is the same capitalization as that of the Tri-county association.

STATE AID

Plans are understood to be under way whereby grounds will be obtained and preparations made to stage the Allen co fair at Delphos this year. State aid will be forthcoming, it is believed, now that the rights and privileges of the old county organization are vested in the Delphos association.

Heretofore the Delphos fair has been held on the streets and was a lesser light when compared with the regularly constituted fairs in the three counties. Now however with the Allen co fair being held at Delphos it is believed that greater interest can be worked up not only in Allen-co but also in Van Wert and Putnam co.

Efforts of the members of the old Allen-co Agricultural Society to obtain a site for a new fair grounds when it was decided to turn the driving park into a real estate allotment proved fruitless and as a result no fair was held in Lima last year.

Delphos fair boosters are jubilant and see their city and fair given greater prestige thru the transfer of the title by the secretary of state. They predict one of the greatest fairs in northwestern Ohio this fall.

FOUR TON SAFE IS STOLEN

Drawn from Bank by Horse in Michigan Robbery

SAGINAW, Mich. — (Associated Press) —Robbers revealed a new technique in bank robbing early today when they used a stolen horse to drag a four ton safe from the State Savings Bank at Harrison, Clare-co. The safe is said to have contained between $6,000 and $7,000 in cash and about $20,000 in Liberty bonds.

Marks of the horse's shoes were clearly discernible on the bank floor this morning. The robbery occurred between 2 and 4 o'clock while the night watchman was at lunch, the horse being used, officers believe, to drag the safe to the doorway and then on skids to the trailer of a waiting motor truck. The horse was "borrowed" from a nearby livery stable.

PASSENGER STEAMER IS FROZEN TIGHTLY IN ICE

DULUTH, Minn. — Thirteen boats, including the passenger steamer Huronic, are frozen tightly in the ice just outside Duluth harbor, according to radio messages received here.

About a dozen boats are lined up in the harbor awaiting an opportunity to proceed down the lake.

There is no chance of any of the boats working their way out of the ice until they are chopped free, or until the temperature rises enough to thaw them loose, it is said. The Huronic carries ten or twelve passengers and a crew of 52.

MADISON GARDEN IS FAMOUS

Historical Structure to House Democratic Convention

15,000 SEATING SPACE

Railroad Terminal Graced Site Fifty-one Years Ago

NEW YORK —(Associated Press)—Madison Square Garden, where the National Democratic Convention will meet in June always has been a place of crowds from the days of the Civil War period when it was the metropolitan terminal for a great railway, on through the phase of its transformation into a gigantic "fest halle," 51 years ago until the present

Always it has been spectacular Crowds have passed through its portals to attend the arrival of pennant-covered trains in times when railroads were making historic speed records Grand opera stars have made their debuts there boxers and wrestlers have gained and lost championships, six day bicyclists have pedalled their weary courses, broncbos have been busted, elephants have trumpeted and clowns have cavorted flower shows have bloomed and politicians have thundered under its rafters

Adding notoriety to its variegated history the Garden Tower, which rears its weatherbeaten 10 stories above the rest of the structure was the scene in 1906 of a sensational murder, the killing of the architect of Madison Square Garden, Stanford White, at the hand of Harry K. Thaw.

Before it quit the work-a day world to enter the realm of pleasure, the Garden was the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad's central station in this city Then P. T. Barnum, whose local museums, traveling circuses and epigrams were bringing him fame, leased the rambling structure for "entertainment and exhibition" purposes, in 1873. He named it "The Hippodrome"

Two years later Gilmore, the famous bandmaster, gained control of the property, rechristened it "Gilmore's Garden," and put on a series of concerts. It was not until 1879 that the place took the name of the beautiful park it faces, and became Madison Square Garden To the eye, however, it still was a railroad station.

Then, in 1889, largely as a public benevolence, the late J P. Morgan and his son and 13 other of New York's wealthiest men financed the erection of a new building on the site, the one that stands today It is a structure of brick and stone covering 32 city lots between Madison and Fourth avenues on the edge of Madison Square Its architecture is of the Rennaissance estyle. An heroic the Rennaissance styles An heroic the tower

The Garden was designed so that it could be transformed in a few hours to suit any form of public entertainment, and it can seat 15,000 persons.

An army of workmen is on duty always, using "props" from the Garden's huge underground storerooms, to make a swimming tank here, a pressroom for a thousand newspapers there, a circus menagerie somewhere else.

A conveniently equipped theatre with seats for 1,000 is tucked away in one corner of the Garden, staging daily performances independently of the main building. A concert hall is nearly lost in another corner. Its roof garden was one of the first in the city.

Since 1912 the financial career of the Garden has been a hectic one It wasn't paying, and it was only when its maintenance was assured for a period of three years by exhibition and sporting interests that it was kept open.

Tracks will be laid over the bridge and cars of the city Street railway company will also benefit by the new construction which is being built by the city of Lima Allen-co and the L I & W. railroad with the utilities bearing the brunt of the expense

DISCOVERER PICTURED IN STAINED GLASS

DUBLIN — According to legend it was not Columbus who first discovered America but the Irish saint Brendan the Navigator.

The exploit of the saint is commemorated in a beautiful stained glass window, which will be exhibited at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley It is the work of two Irish women artists and will be the only example of stained glass work by women to be exhibited

The saint holds in his right hand an oar and in his left a chalice Around his head is an orange nimbus, while about his feet flow green waves

The stained glass industry has been much developed in Ireland in recent years and Irish churches of all denominations which used to get glass from Munich are now getting it of Irish design from Dublin

SMOKING TO BE RESTRICTED AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

NEW YORK — Due to the presence of women and to fire regulations smoking will be restricted at the Democratic national convention

Joseph P Day, chairman of the New York committee, made this known yesterday when he announced that the committee had accepted an offer of a local department store to provide a club room for the use of delegates and guests at Madison Square Garden

The art theatre in the garden will be converted into a lounge and smoking room with postal and telephone facilities A special entrance will lead directly from the garden to the theatre thru which the delegates may enter without going outside the building

GREATER AUTONOMY FOR PHILIPPINES RECOMMENDED

WASHINGTON — A promise of greater autonomy at once and independence in 20 years is held out to the Philippines in a bill favorably reported to the house by its insular affairs committee Altho no place has yet been assigned to it on the legislative program friends of the measure are expected to press for a vote on it before congress adjourns

The bill introduced by Representative Fairfield, Republican Indiana, with a provision for an independence plebiscite in the islands at the end of 30 years, was amended by the committee late yesterday to eliminate the plebiscite requirement and provide for automatic recognition of the Philippines as an independent nation and withdrawal of American troops at the expiraton of 20 years.

A "commonwealth of the Philippines" meanwhile would be set up after the drafting of a constitution by a constitutional convention and its acceptance by the qualified electors of the Philippines and during the 20 years of remaining allegiance to the United States, its acts would be subject to review only by the president.

BEER FIGHT GIVEN NEW IMPETUS

Modification Forces, Stimulated by Dr. Butler's Views

ACTIVITY ON THE INCREASE

Conventions Expected to be Flooded With Propaganda

By LAWRENCE MARTIN

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—The popular reaction to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's views regarding the prohibition law, has so stimulated the forces working for modification of the Volstead act that the two national conventions next month will be flooded with propaganda for beer and light wine.

The politicians who will have to deal with this question at the conventions have been keeping close tab on the result of Butler's utterances. Because of the position Butler occupies in the intellectual and social scale, his frankness in dealing with the question has set a great many other persons to expressing their own views who previously felt that to do so might line them up with the "wets". No matter what statistics show concerning widespread violations of the dry laws, a good many million people in this country consider it not respectable to be associated in any degree with persons who advocate anything "wet" now some of these folk, who have come to the same conclusions Butler has arrived at, are telling their congressmen and senators so. The percentage of such expressions from people who are designated, for want of a more descriptive term, as "good people", has surprised members of congress and politicians.

The wets are preparing to broadcast Butler's views thru every possible channel and to keep alive thruout the coming campaign this question of modifying the law on moral grounds. That is, they will cite Butler and others as evidence that the moral people, the "good people" of the country ought to support the beer movement, if they want to prevent lawlessness and crime.

The newly organized "beer committee" in congress, the American Federation of Labor and the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment will all lend their support actively to this campaign. So confident are the wets that the popular feeling coincides pretty generally with Butler's views that they are even talking of the possibility of getting a modification-ist plank into the Republican platform. In this they are undoubtedly due for disappointment as it is not likely either party will adopt such a plank.

But in any event, the beer and wine workers will not let the country lose sight of the issue between now and November.

GREASE PLANT IS IN OPERATION

Secret Process Used in Making Radiant Oil Co. Product

Grease plant just completed by the Radiant Oil Co. on Grand-av is now in production, E. E. Bessire, general manager, announced Thursday.

First batches of grease, manufactured under a secret process, are now being turned out and it is believed that the full capacity of 28,000 pounds a day will soon be required to supply the trade.

The local plant is said to be one of the nine largest plants in the United States manufacturing grease of this character and under the "Cham" process an exceptional grease is produced.

Five salesmen are now on the road and located in the larger cities of the middle west. Storage capacity of 60,000 gallons of motor oil is provided at the Grand-av plant and 11 trucks are now used in distributing the product.

A filling station located at the intersection of Bellefontaine-av and Kibby-st will be completed by the middle of the month, it is believed

DOME OUTPUT DESCRIBED TO SENATE OIL PROBERS

WASHINGTON — In a committee room destitute of spectators, the practical details of oil production on Teapot Dome and Elk Hill were described today for the senate committee by H. Foster Bain, director of the bureau of mines.

In order to show that there was oil in Teapot Dome below the second wall creek sand, Senator Walsh, the committee prosecutor, asked Director Bain about the drilling of a well to the third creek sand. The witness said this well was producing about eighty barrels a day.

Seven or eight oil wells have been drilled under the Doheny lease on the Elk Hill reserve, the director said, and have produced about 1,500,000 barrels. Most of them he told the committee, were offset wells. The actual average royalty paid by Doheny was 28 per cent in December, the witness testified and is now 26 per cent. He said there had been no new drilling under the Doheny lease since the senate investigation began.

ALLEN IS NAMED AS ENGINEER

ment, according to Commissioner W. W. Craig.

Recommendation made by a committee of lot owners, following the controversy, gave Fuller & McClintock a preference if no legal complications interfered.

J. Henry Meyers, county sanitary engineer, endorsed Allen for the job, minutes in the commissioner's journal show.

Allen will be paid 30 per cent of his money when the general plan is presented. Another 30 per cent will be paid when plans are approved by the state board of health. The balance will be paid on monthly estimates of the amount due the contractor.

All surveys, reconnaissances, borings, surroundings, tests and experimental work is to be performed by Allen. He will also prepare plans, data and specification, attend conferences and be present at all meetings for purpose of giving advice. He will have supervision of the work and full management from conception to completion.

It will also be a part of his duty to attend to all legal work, subject to approval of the county prosecutor, and prepare and furnish blanks for assessing abutting lands and lots to pay for the sewer.

The project when completed will cost from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, it is estimated.

SMEAR OF WALSH SOUGHT, CLAIM

Something on Senator Wanted, Daugherty Probers Told

MONTANA LAWYER QUIZZED

Testifies Relative to Indictment Against Wheeler

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—The activities of Blair Coan, the Republican national committee investigator who went to Montana to inquire into the records of Senator Walsh of the oil committee and Senator Wheeler of the Daugherty committee, were further described today in the senate Daugherty investigation.

A. A. Grorud, a Helena attorney, testified he had talked with Coan in Montana in April.

"Coan came to me and said he wanted something to smear Senator Walsh," Grorud said. "He asked me for affidavits. He said they had Wheeler where they wanted him and now they would get something on Walsh. I told Coan that I knew something about the Campbell case (on which Senator Wheeler's indictment was based) and that there was nothing they could convict Wheeler about in that. Coan said that was right but that they would have the indictment to hold over Wheeler anyhow. Slattery, the United States district attorney, had not wished to bring the case before a grand jury even, Coan went on, but the department of justice had a charge against Slattery, because he had been mixed up in some liquor prosecutions, and that made Slattery go thru, anyway."

HAD ASSISTANTS

Coan also said, the witness testified that a Burns agent named McGraw was assisting him.

"Blair Coan told me the department of justice had 22 men in Montana," Grorud said.

Before 1916, Grorud said on cross-examination, he was a law partner of Senator Wheeler.

E. G. Toomey, another Montana lawyer, told the committee he had encountered department of justice agents in the state who said they were investigating actions of Slattery.

The committee then returned to its inquiry into the affairs of Howard Manington, M. P. Kraffmiller, former associate of Manington in Washington produced a letter sent him February 26, 1922, by the latter from Columbus, refusing to give back any part of the money paid by Kraffmiller to Manington as fees for "legal services".

The witness said that Fred A. Caskey, also associated with Manington had told him Will A. Orr of New York also was trying to get back money from Manington and that Orr threatened to shoot up Jess Smith and Manington if he didn't pay it back.

Paul Howland, attorney for H. M. Daugherty asked Kraffmiller if the payments "you made to Manington were paid as 'bribes'."

"No, sir," Kraffmiller said.

"Wasn't this money paid by your clients because they knew Manington was close to the attorney general," asked Chairman Brookhart.

"Well we believed he had influence with the attorney general."

"It turned out frequently that with all the influence of Mr. Manington, yourself and Fred A. Caskey," Howland asked, "you were unable to get liquor permits."

"Yes sir."

"But Caskey got rich," Chairman Brookhart put in.

"I can't say senator," Kraffmiller replied laughingly.

"Mr. Caskey is here," Howland interjected. "why don't you get him?"

"Oh, we did," Chairman Brookhart replied, "but he refused to take our subpoena on his constitutional rights."

Mary Yeager now employed in the alien property office, formerly in office of Attorney General Daugherty then testified that she took dictation from Jess Smith who "occupied" an office on the sixth floor of the department of justice. She said she worked at Marion during the Harding campaign.

She saw Smith and former Attorney General Daugherty together at the department of justice constantly. Miss Yeager said, but would not agree that Smith dictated letters for Daugherty's signature.

"What did Smith do around there?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"He interviwed people there for Mr. Daugherty."

"How do you know Smith did things for Mr. Daugherty?" put in Senator Jones, Republican, Washington.

"I don't know, I assume so."

Miss Yeager said she knew Smith was "not an official of the department of justice" but took dictation from him because he was a close friend to Mr. Daugherty and the administration.

John Glenn, of Nashville, Tenn., a former internal revenue agent, called to the witness stand for the second time, testified about the Lou Frank tax cases on which he worked.

"The Southern Lumber and Manufacturing Company was investigated on information that it was evading taxes," Glenn said. "It developed gross frauds. Frank was indicted and fined $5,000 and given six months in jail. He made two applications for pardons to President Wilson in the closing days of the last administration but was turned down. Then he was pardoned in March 1921."

COOLIDGE LEAD DOUBLED

SAN FRANCISCO—President Calvin Coolidge doubled his lead over Senator Hiram Johnson in the California primary election count in overnight returns. The count today, with a few less than 600 precincts missing, gave Coolidge a majority of 40,224.

SKAT HANDS OUT STORM WARNINGS

"Summer lasts about as long as a howling cat on a board fence at midnight," Skat said Thursday as he threw his umbrella tail over his head and skurried for shelter from the impending storm. "I don't know whether it will rain or snow," Skat moaned as he watched the thermometer drop six degrees at noon Thursday, "but I am not taking any chances. The weather man says we are going to have rain and then more rain on Friday. I don't doubt his word but if it gets much colder we can prepare for a regular snow storm."

TWO BRIDGE JOBS ARE AWARDED

Van Wert Firm Wins State-Work With $6,462.05 Bid

Contract for the construction of two reinforced concrete bridges on Spencerville-ed west of Lima, was let Thursday by L. A. Boulby, state highway director to P. B. Putnam, Van Wert contractor, with a low of $6,462.05 for the two jobs.

Work will commence on the bridges in the near future, it was announced Thursday by county commissioners. Charles Ash, state resident engineer, will supervise the construction work.

The bridges will replace old iron structures put up years ago. They will be elevated to the grade of the proposed road so as to improve traffic.

The bridges will be 18 feet wide and 30 feet long.

No word has been received on the paving section at Scotts Crossing and the Elida bridge, sold a week ago.

Work on paving Bellefontaine-rd is progressing, Engineer Ash reports. Stone has been put in on about a mile section immediately east of Lima.

DRY ACT MODIFICATION VIGOROUSLY OPPOSED

WASHINGTON — Modification of the prohibition laws was vigorously opposed today by a delegation headed by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, who appeared before the house judiciary committee. The committee has under consideration a number of bills which would permit 2.75 per cent beer.

At the opening of the hearing F. F. Harley, chaiman of the National Liberal Alliance, former mayor of Astoria, Oregon, wound up the argument for modification, declaring he spoke for 7,000,000 people who registered their ballots thru a referendum of his organization. If allowed to vote on the question, the vast majority of the people of the whole country, he said, would vote for modification.

A tilt ocurred between Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, and the witness over the voting on modification in Michigan and Ohio, Foster challenging the statement that ballots had been taken by boxes placed in churches. Harley was authorized to submit evidence later.

WIFE IS KIDNAPED, SALESMAN TELLS POLICE

CHICAGO—L. M. Hoppe, 30, salesman for a seed house, today told police that his wife, Fada, was kidnaped early this morning, just as they left a friend's home on the south side. The Hoppes were married in Big Rapids, Mich., a year ago.

The kidnapers worked so rapidly that they had the woman in their automobile and were speeding away before he realized what was happening, he said.

THREE PRISONERS FREED

COLUMBUS — Governor Donahey today liberated three persons convicted of prohibition law violation from the Brown-co jail on recommendation of State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald. All were serving out fines and costs ranging from $300 to $500.

GROCERY ROBBERS ENTER COLUMBUS STATE PRISON

Dan Kramer, Jack Wolfe, and Emmitt Felver, grocery robbers, commenced serving sentences of 10 years each in Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus Wednesday.

Gloom depressed the trio when they were conducted inside the high stone walls that is to be their home for 10 long years.

Felver broke into convulsive sobs as burly guards took the trio in tow, and commenced running them thru the routine for receiving prisoners.

The robbers were given a shave, hair cut and bath. Civilian clothing was taken from them and the coarse, gray prison garb substituted. They were photographed, finger printed and measured for Bertillion records.

The three were placed in the intermediate grade, where they will be watched. If conduct is good they will be allowed some privileges. If unruly they will be made to feel the rigors of prison discipline.

Jess Snyder, remaining member of the gang under sentence, and Ray Windbigler, auto thief, are to be taken to prison Friday.

Judge Urges Severe Penalty for Institution Wreckers

HITS "DOUBLE STANDARD"

Kansas Jurist Argues in Name of Confidence

WICHITA, Kas. — (United Press) —"The best preventative for bank failures is the speedy and vigorous prosecution and the most severe punishment of officers responsible for wrecking banks," in the opinion of Judge J. D. Wall of the Sedgwick co district court. Judge Wall attracted nation-wide attention by the severe punishment he inflicted upon J. N. Richardson, president of the defunct American State Bank of Wichita, which failed with a loss of $2,250,000 to depositors. Richardson was found guilty by a jury and without comment, Judge Wall meted out the maximum sentence—45 years in prison and $45,000 fine.

At the request of the United Press, Judge Wall wrote the following article regarding the case:

"Confidence of the people in impartial justice and in the integrity of the courts is an essential element of the preservation of our form of government. Without such confidence, there can be no stability in business, nor a sense of security in his liberty and property rights to the individual.

TWO STANDARDS

"There can be no such confidence, if there exist two standards of procedure and of punishment for law violators: One for the wealthy, who by reason of their wealth are enabled to procure eminent counsel and to avail themselves of all the advantages and technicalities known to the law before conviction and who by reason of their previous standing in the community, confidently expect and demand that their punishment be minimized; and another different and distinct standard for the law violator whose financial circumstances are such as will not permit him to avail himself of such a defense and whose previous standing in the cammunity raises no popular demand for a light sentence.

"The banker who violates the trust reposed in him should be as severely punished as the statute permits. The responsibility imposed upon a banker for integrity, honesty and fair dealing, is greater than that imposed on any other person. The confidence of the business world in the banking fraternity has been lessened by the failure to vigorously prosecute participants in the wrecking of banks and by inadequate punishment inflicted upon those who are convicted for violating the banking laws.

"The best preventative for bank failures is the speedy and vigorous prosecution and the most severe punishment of the officers who are responsible for the wrecking of banks. The impression that a banker may violate the banking laws with impunity has arisen from the fact that so many banks have been wrecked without the guilty officers paying a penalty, therefor.

"It is high time that this impression be dispelled The banking fraternity itself suffers most from the delinquency of one of its members."

SCOTS NOW BOAST OF ROYAL LINE

Alfred Duke of York, Unofficial Prince of Scotland

LONDON — (Associated Press)— Not to be outdone by Wales, which can nboast of its own royal prince, an influential group of Scotchmen have chosen Albert, Duke of York, to be the unofficial Prince of Scotland.

Since the time when Queen Elizabeth robbed Scotland of its royal line, Scotchmen have had only two or three royal princes allotted them by the grace of their English sovereign. Now Scotchmen would like to exercise a certain amount of freedom in selecting a royal prince of their own.

Scotchmen attending the 141st anniversary dinner of the Highland Society, in which the Duke of York was present, took the initiative in adopting him as their favorite son. The Scotchmen pointed out that the Duke of York also held a Scottish title "The Earl of Inverness" and that furthermore he had married a Scottish duchess, and they did not neglect to note that he is also Scottish by lineage.

In the course of his speech the Duke of York acknowledged the compliment.

The selection has precedent in the action of George III who accommodated the expressed desire of the Scotch and made one of his sons the Duke of Clarence. Victoria hastened to treat all her subjects equally, making her second son the Duke of Edinburg, the third son the Duke of Connaught for Ireland, and the fourth son was created Duke of Albany as England's own.

George V is in a position to emulate his grandmother, for he has two sons who are not yet attached to ducal titles.

At home or on the road DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Keeps him in good health

Clogged-Up? Here's Quick Aid

NEVER mind what you are using now for constipation. For all you know there is a better remedy! The next time you are clogged up try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative successfully used for 30 years, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Mrs. John A. Goins of Butlerville, Ind., constipated all her life, her stomach injured from years of pill taking, is now functioning daily since taking Syrup Pepsin; and Mr. David O'Connor of Canton, Ohio, suffering steadily for three years, got relief after a few doses. The list of successful users of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is naturally large as over 10 million bottles are sold annually.

Formula on Every Package

Get yourself a bottle at a drug store, the cost being less than a cent a dose. Take a spoonful at bedtime for a few nights and we guarantee that the most chronic constipation will be relieved, or refund your money. A few doses in succession soon train the stomach muscles to act for themselves. Many, however, take it once a week and in that way keep the bowels regularly open. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, unlike harsh physics such as calomel, "candy cathartics," salt waters and powders, is a simple vegetable laxative composed of Egyptian senna and pepsin with tasty aromatics which are entirely harmless.

This Remedy Guaranteed

It has been accurately proven that a constipated person is only 75 per cent efficient. It slows you up; makes you dull and lazy. Take Syrup Pepsin the first day you do not have complete bowel movement. Take it, guaranteed, for constipation, torpid liver, dyspepsia, biliousness, sour stomach, headache, lack of appetite. A spoonful at the first sneeze or sniffle will kill a cold overnight. Half the ailments of winter start with constipation followed by a cold.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN TAX BATTLE

Minority Plan of Levy on Corporations Put Thru

BACKED BY INSURGENTS

G. O. P. Chiefs Still Hopeful as to Final Vote

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The revenue bill, carrying the main provisions of the Democratic program, was taken up by the senate today for the polishing touches, with more than two score amendments by individual members of one committee amendment pending. The gift tax, inserted in the bill by the house and knocked out by the finance committee, was the first provision on today's list.

The Democrats yesterday gained one of their principal objectives when a graduated tax on distributed profits of corporations — second on their program only to their income tax schedule—was put into the bill after a ten hour contest. Republican insurgents who made possible the Democratic income rates, again joined forces with the minority on the corporation tax.

REPUBLICANS HOPEFUL

Republican organization leaders continued hopeful today, however, that a reversal of the income tax vote might be gained on the final test when the measure as a whole comes up for approval, but little indication of a break on the insurgent ranks was in evidence.

President Coolidge has let it be known that he is even more opposed to the corporation tax adopted yesterday and the provision for full publicity of tax returns, than to the Democratic income schedule.

The Democratic corporation tax plan was adopted last night by a vote of 43 to 32, six Republican insurgents voting with the Democrats. It would provide, in place of the present flat tax of 12 1-2 per cent on corporations, a normal tax of nine per cent on corporation earnings and a graduated scale of rates starting at one-fourth of one per cent on 10 per cent of undistributed profits. A maximum rate of forty per cent is fixed, applying on all undistributed profits in excess of sixty per cent.

WAR VETERANS DEVELOP FERTILE LAND DISTRICT

SEATTLE — The state of Washington, having successfully developed and colonized an original unit of 50 twenty-acre tracts of land in the White Bluffs-Hanford soldier settlement project in the Priest Rapids Valley, is seeking 50 additional settlers. This project is being settled entirely by war veterans, those from other states being accepted.

The valley, 175 miles southeast of here, is in a horse-shoe bend of the Columbia River, with nearly 60,000 acres of irrigable land. Wells have been dug for irrigation, machinery installed and buildings erected.

The soil, a decomposed volcanic ash ranging in depth from 2 to 10 feet, produces alfalfa, clover, fruits and vegetables when water is applied.

The tracts are sold on terms and for every dollar invested by the veteran the state lends him $8 on long time.

RIOTS BREAK OUT IN FRENCH CAMPAIGN

PARIS — As the parliamentary election draws near, incidents of violence in connection with the campaign are reported.

Gaston Vidal, former under secretary for physical education and one of the most famous rugby players in Europe, was rushed off his feet at a campaign meeting near Vichy yesterday and so badly mauled that he was obliged to take to his bed.

Jacques Dumesnil, former under secretary for aviation, also clashed with Communists at Melun last night. He emerged from the scrimmage covered with bruises, while one of his followers suffered a broken leg.

In general the disorders are greater in number than have attended French election campaigns in many years.

Child-birth

HOW thousands of women, by the simple method of an eminent physician, have avoided unnecessary miseries through many months and up to the moment Baby has arrived, is fully explained in the remarkable book, "Motherhood and the Baby." Tells also what to do before and after baby comes, probable date of birth, baby rules, etc., and about "Mother's Friend," used by three generations of mothers, and sold in all drug stores everywhere. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally, is safe, free from narcotics, permits easier natural readjustment of muscles and nerves during expectancy and child-birth. Start using it today. Mrs. E. E. Kerger, Slayton, Minn., says: "It pulled me through." Send for book today, to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-76, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold at all good drug stores—everywhere.

"RADIO GRADIO"

The hurdy-gurdy, for generations the curbstone favorite of children, threatens to pass. Enters the radio-gradio, or whatever they will name the latest variations of organ grinding. Oh yes, the inevitable "mong" will still be there to attract the youngsters.

953 LISTED FOR COOLIDGE

Number of Delegates Claimed Pledged to President

WASHINGTON — (United Press) —With only a few scattering states yet to be heard from, the lineup of delegates for the Republican and Democratic national conventions next month is taking shape.

As a result of his victories in California, Indiana and Maryland, (he was unopposed in the last named state), President Coolidge has a total of 953 delegates, his headquarters here claimed. Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, is sure of 28 and Senator Hiram Johnson will have 15 with 113 still to be chosen or uninstructed. Some of the delegates claimed for Mr. Coolidge are technically uninstructed, but are believed certain to vote for him on the first ballot.

Utah, Wyoming, Alabama, Vermont, Texas, Oregon, Montana, and West Virginia, still have to choose their delegates. There are some scattering delegates-at-large still to be named also. There are 1,109 delegates in the convention with 556 necessary to nominate.

On the Democratic side, it is impossible to set down with absolute accuracy the delegate strength of the various candidates, because of conflicting claims based on pledges that certain "favorite son" delegates will vote for one or another of the leading candidates.

McAdoo, however, appears to have between 350 and 450 delegates, either pledged to him or which will be controlled by him on the early ballots. Al Smith has about 200 votes; Underwood has 200 or more.

In all, these, however, are "tentative pledges" or portions of delegations which under the unit rule may have to vote for some other candidate. A large number of the Democratic delegates are uninstructed.

There are in all, 1098 with 732 necessary to nominate.

FARMER KILLED BY LIONS

Persons Attacked by Wild Beasts on Rhodesian Frontier

LONDON —(Associated Press)— Farm houses in the bush bordering on the northern Rhodesian frontier have recently been in a state of siege owing to the activities of lions. The animals have come out of the jungle in daylight and attacked the farm animals, carrying off many of them.

In some cases the natives working on the farms have been attacked, and several have been killed. The lions are often joined by leopards and have appeared in such numbers that the settlers are forced to go about only in large groups and to keep a constant guard over their families and stock.

The wife of a railroad employe reports a thrilling adventure in this connection. Mrs. Mclean left her home at Garuso on a bicycle to visit neighbors. Reaching a river she found two large lions on the bank. She was so near that she could not retreat and prepared to fight for her life, but at the first shot the animals ran. She then proceeded and shortly came across a big leopard eating an ox. The leopard also made a hasty getaway, but followed Mrs. Mclean for some time.

Arriving at the farm she found it had been attacked for several weeks by the animals, and many cattle had been lost. Next day she was escorted back to her home by a neighbor and ten natives who, on leaving Mrs. Mclean, found they had been tracked all the way by lions. Mrs. Mclean's escape was probably due to the fact that the animals had eaten their fill of oxen.

BOY KILLED

CINCINNATI — Cyrus Tunning, 18, was almost instantly killed and Fred Westfall, 65, a truck gardener, was fatally injured when the automobile truck which they occupied was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train at a street crossing here today. Westfall died after being taken to a hospital.

DECISION HANDED DOWN IN AUTOMOBILE TAX CASE

COLUMBUS — The court of appeals in a decision today held constitutional that section of the automobile tax law which levies upon horsepower and weight of trucks. The decision reverses that made by Judge Kinkead in the actions brought against Secretary of State Brown by the Foltz Grocery and Baking Co., Cincinnati, and the Fisher Brothers Co. of Cleveland to enjoin the collection of taxes. The sections of the law in controversy are those which provide a tax of $8 on each truck.

AMERICANS IN ACTION

United States sailors and marines still occupy Puerto Cortes and other ports in Honduras where Central America's latest revolution now is in progress. Here is a party of gobs from the U. S. S. Denver "digging in." This stockade, thrown up by United States marines in a Honduran city, marks the beginning of the "neutral zone." A native woman is seen entering it on her way to market.

TRUCK HITS MAN

James E. Barker Badly Bruised in Accident Wednesday

James E. Barker, 21, 732 Michael-av, is in City hospital suffering from severe bruises as the result of being struck by a truck Wednesday night at the intersection of Metcalf-st and Faurot-av.

Barker was riding a bicycle north of Metcalf-st when a Mother Bread truck going east on Faurot-av crashed into him, throwing him under the front wheel of the truck. He was removed to City hospital in an ambulance. Examination showed there were no broken bones altho he is suffering from shock and severe bruises.

BAIL IS DENIED IN KIDNAPING CASE

Philadelphia Woman Held to Answer Abduction Charge

PHILADELPHIA — (United Press) — With Corina Modell, the kidnaped baby, back in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Mary Demarco, confessed kidnaper, sits in a city hall cell today awaiting trial. She is being held without bail.

The assurance which possessed the woman during her preliminary hearing and enabled her to smile while evidence of the most damaging kind was presented against her, has now left her and she sits in her cell and sobs.

Her husband, Anthony Demarco, is held as a material witness and has been released on $1,000 bail. During his hearing, Demarco broke down and sobbed that his good name was being dragged down by "this woman."

"If I get out of this, I am going to get a divorce. What is the use of being married to a woman like this?"

With the baby hunt over, police today are trying to decide who is to get the rewards offered for the return of the baby. A board of police officials has been named to investigate all phases of the kidnaping and this body will decide who gets the rewards.

Mayor Kendrick offered $1,000 for the return of the baby and a business men's association near the Modell home, offered $2,000 for the arrest of the kidnaper.

Mrs. Lena Churchill, the woman who "tipped" the police to the possibility of the Demarco woman having the child, seems the most likely one to get the rewards.

She stated today that if she is granted any of the rewards, she will divide the money among those who took more minor parts in bringing about the capture.

SUSPECT DENIES CONFESSION

Alleged Thug Transferred to County Jail After Hearing

INJURIES NEARLY HEALED

Prisoner Unable to Provide $4,000 Bail; Faces Confinement

James Clark, 1145 S. Metcalf-st, accused negro grocery store bandit and highwayman, is in Allen-co jail in default of $4,000 bail on a charge of highway robbery.

Accused of holding up three grocery stores and one drug store, Clark denied his guilt Wednesday at arraignment in criminal court before Judge Neil R. Poling and was bound over to the grand jury under $4,000 bail.

After his spectacular escape Sunday night from City hospital and the city wide search instituted by Lima police department, the wounded suspected bandit was recaptured when he attempted to enter his home on S. Metcalf-st to obtain clothing in place of the blood soaked hospital robe in which he was attired.

Clark's escape resulted in suspension for 30 days of Officer William Houtz by Police Chief T. A. Lanker who charged negligence on the part of Houtz in leaving the room contrary to orders. Clark made a sheet rope and slip down from a second story window while Houtz was absent from the room on the second floor.

At police headquarters Clark was finger printed, mugged and Bertillon measurements taken. He has almost recovered from the bullet wound in his abdomen.

Police Chief T. A. Lanker is sure that evidence on file in the police department is sufficient to convict the negro on several counts of robbery and also on highway robbery charges.

Clark is charged with the hold up of Jacob H. Haege grocery, 216 N. Cole-st, robbery of the Brice-av drug store and several other jobs. Haege, it is claimed, will testify that Clark is the negro who shoved a gun under his nose and cleaned out the cash register while a white companion stood by with levelled revolver and covered his retreat.

Finale to the nightly hold ups was rung when J. Ronald Cuthbert, consulting chemist, shot a negro who attempted to hold him up. Police followed the blood trail left by the wounded man and arrested Clark at his home.

While in City hospital the negro is alleged to have confessed to police but absence of written confessions will necessitate a compilation by police of a strong chain of evidence against him to secure a conviction, police say.

HOUSE ENTERED, THREE BICYCLES ARE STOLEN

9 CONDEMNED TO DIE TOMORROW

Six Men Are to be Hanged in Louisiana

3 GO TO CHAIR IN KENTUCKY

One of Doomed Murderers is 71 Years Old

AMITE, La. — (Associated Press) —But for the presence of national guardsmen patrolling the vicinity of the parish prison where Natalie Deamore, Joseph Rini, Joseph Giglio, Andre Lemantia, Joseph Bocchio and Roy Leona, condemned to die tomorrow between the hours of noon and 3 p. m., for the murder of Dallas Calmes at Independence three years ago today, there was little outward appearance to indicate early today that within the next twenty-four hours wide attention would be focused on their little town.

The sextette who have unsuccessfully fought with every legal proceeding to save their lives, were brought to Amite yesterday from New Orleans.

Prison guards constantly watched every move of the condemned men against possible attempts at suicide. The announcement that their attorneys in New Orleans had ceased to strive for a stay of execution had no visible effect upon them.

Leona who stabbed himself yesterday in a suicidal attempt before leaving the Orleans parish jail was not seriously injured, it was said.

THREE FACE DEATH

EDDYVILLE, Ky. — (Associated Press) — Whether the first triple electrocution in Kentucky is staged in the Western State penitentiary here early Friday depended today upon possibility of presentation to the supreme court of a plea for a writ of error in the case of Frank Thomas, 71, murderer, and action of that high tribunal. The aged man, with a record of three men slain, faces the chair for the killing in Jefferson-co of his friend and benefactor, Lee Arbegust.

With Thomas in the prison death house are George Weick, sentenced to die for the murder near Louisville of William Oelke, a fellow farmer, and Charles Miller, negro, given the death penalty for murder of two railroad guards in Breckenridge-co.

NEW PACT WITH JAPAN LIKELY

Expected as Outgrowth of American Immigration Act

EXCLUSION DATE CHANGED

Fixed as March 1, 1925, Instead of July 1, This Year

WASHINGTON —(United Press) —Negotiations will be opened here and in Tokio for a new immigration treaty between the United States and Japan as soon as both the senate and house have formally approved President Coolidge's compromise plan on the Japanese immigration question and the president has signed the bill.

Altho Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, who was in charge of the immigration bill in the senate and Representative Longworth, Republican leader of the house, predict the conference report embodying the Coolidge compromise will be adopted by both houses in a few days, it is expected there will be bitter opposition from supporters of Japanese exclusion.

TIME ALLOWED

Nine months would be allowed—under the proposed extension of the effective date for Japanese exclusion, to March 1, 1925—for the negotiation of a treaty and its approval by the senate. The eleventh hour decision of the conferees to extend the time to this date came with a dramatic suddenness after President Coolidge had called congressional leaders to the White House.

Both American officials and Japanese diplomats believe the nine months now provided will be sufficient time to work out a treaty, altho President Coolidge's original compromise proposal was to extend the effective date for Japanese exclusion to March 1, 1926. The principal question is believed to be whether the approval of the senate to the treaty can be secured in time and this is understood to have been the reason for the longer period proposed in the president's original plan.

LABOR CLASH IN GERMANY GRAVE

Threatens to Prevent Settlement of Reparations

STRIKE FOLLOWS LOCKOUT

Practically All Mines in Ruhr Valley Idle

BERLIN — (United Press)—The strike and lockout in the Ruhr was effective practically thruout the entire industrial basin, according to reports here today and threatened to endanger prospects of a reparations settlement, if it continued.

Practically all mines were idle today, dispatches said.

Altho the initiative was taken by the operators, who locked out thousands of men who declined to accept an eight-hour day for underground work, Communist miners immediately countered by declaring a general strike in the Ruhr.

COMMUNIST HAND SEEN

Their funds are short and their resistance to pressure by the industrialists weakened accordingly.

Some Germans profess to see Russian influence in the Communist strike, harking back to the incident at the trade delegation headquarters in Berlin when a Russian prisoner was taken by police.

There are also reports that many miners are becoming ugly.

Miners in Silesia and Saxony are reportd considering sympathy strikes.

Deliveries under the "Micum" agreement between French and German industrialists are threatened. The former threaten to confiscate mines unless production is maintained.

If new confiscations are made the reparations settlement manifestly will be badly influenced. The Socialists warn that continuance might even endanger seriously the reparations conclusion.

WMAN'S DEATH LAID AT DOOR OF THREE BANDITS

DETROIT—Despite the statement of police that Sophie Lyons Burke, at one time an internationally famous criminal, died a natural death, the belief persisted today in many quarters that she was the victim of three bandits who had accused her of "squealing."

For the last 40 years, Sophie Lyons had gone straight and accumulated a fortune, but she still befriended her erring brethren and strove to give them another chance.

She died at a hospital here yesterday from cerebral hemorrhage, according to her physician, Dr. G. H. Campau.

Dr. Campau said there were no marks of violence and that he believed high blood pressure had overcome her. Mrs. Burke was 76.

How Best to Grow the Pullets

How to Grow 'Em Big
Pullets should be grown to large size in frame and muscle development so that they look like "young hens" so-to-speak, when they are ready to lay. The best developed pullets are those that are not less than six months old, regardless of breed, before they lay their first egg and which are so well developed that their combs will be small, apparently just "blooming."
Vitality Growing Mash Does the Trick
The best developed pullets, those which lay eggs of hen size soon after the first few pullet size eggs, are those which have been fed on Vitality Growing Mash strictly according to directions.
When the poultry raiser feeds as recommended he will get out of a chick all that may be in it at the lowest possible cost for feed. Vitality Growing Mash produces more gain in weight on less consumption of feed than all other growing mashes. (60)

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y. suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this cruel disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of cease[illegible] that once and for free from rheumatism until the acid[illegible] impurities commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenrhu to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Argonne Drug Store and Green's Public Drug Store can supply you. adv

RULERS HIT BY SUPPOSED AIDERS

British Labor Government Embarrassed by Union Men

STRIKES ARE NUMEROUS

Radical Control of Organizations Given as Reason

LONDON — (United Press) — The unusual sequence of big strikes and labor upheavals the moment a Labor government came into power in Britain, may well surprise readers abroad, who may justifiably have supposed that the aims of the trade-union movement would be to help the First Labor government to make good and continue in office as long as possible.

Actually, Ramsey MacDonald's Cabinet has encountered more trouble from its own alleged supporters than it has from the combined Parliamentary opposition, Liberals and Conservatives.

The reasons are many and various—sometimes a case of "curses like chickens coming home to roost," when Labor leaders have found that the lively criticisms they launched from the opposition benches are not quite so easily acceptable when the critics find themselves at the head of a big Government department.

The main cause, however, is the increasing influence of Communists and other extremists in British trade union management—men not in Parliament, but possibly hoping to get there and, anyway, seeking to replace the older type of leader who is now a member of the Government. When MacDonald formed his Cabinet the cream of the saner labor leaders became Cabinet Ministers and junior members of the Administration and, according to British governmental precedent, they relinquished, temporarily at any rate, active control of their own trade unions

Hence, most of the big unions lost a number of their most experienced leaders—men of the "safe and sane" type.

The main body of British trade union feeling is by no means extremist contrarily, it is intensely conservative, as befitting the original aims of the trade union movement. But, like most conservatives, the average old-type trade unionist did not worry himself much about the political side of the movement, and was too lazy to see that his views were properly represented even on his own governing body. Under leaders like J. H. Thomas, J. R. Clynes, Stephen Walsh, Tom Shaw, Harry Gosling and others now in the Cabinet, the average trade unionist was content to let his executive do his political thinking for him.

EXTREMISTS IN OFFICE

It is true that of late years most of the big labor federations have placed the younger, mostly extremist type in "second-in-command" position, but this was mostly on general "gingering-up" principles, and it was on the saner, old type chief of the organization that the trade unionist relied to steer clear of foolishness. Where an extremist gained the highest position in a union he invariably found himself hedged by old-type conservative lieutenants. This is typical, not only of British labor, but British politics generally. The Britisher hates political extremes in any direction, and likes to attach a few safety brakes. This was the explanation of the last General Election result Scared or, at least, worried, by the prospect of food taxation and increased cost of living, Mr. J. Elector Bull merely decided to elect enough Labor and Liberal members of Parliament to prevent Conservative tariff experiments.

With regard to the trade unions, however, it meant the removal of the safety brakes, and general control of the machinery passed into the hands of the extremists. Many of the modern trade union leaders had little or no connection with personal labor, having adopted politics as a profession and, however sincere their ideas, they viewed labor organization from the political standpoint, whereas the older type thought more about the industrial aspects.

Both types desired to utilize the accession to power of a Labor Government for the furtherance of trade union ideals, but they differed as to the scope of these ideals and the methods of application Some of the younger type saw only an opportunity of squeezing immediate concessions to the workers, while the older type preferred to "make haste slowly."

The recent transport workers and dockers' strike, also the stoppage of the London tram and bus workers, were due partly to old grievances, and might have happened under any Government, but the organizers worked them for their full political value, bringing out allied industries in sympathy in the hope that a desperate public would force the Government to act, which, according to the organizers' ideas, could only be in the workers' favor.

HURT THE GOVERNMENT

To a certain extent they obtained concessions, but they rendered a great disservice to the Labor Government. As the strike organizers had reckoned, the Labor Government was reluctant to take strong measures against its own class, but it declined to be "held up" and dominated by the trade unions, which the old-time labor leader recognized as form only a section of the community—and more important still, of the electorate.

When Ernest Bevin prepared to call out the electricians subway employes and others in support of the London tram and bus strikers Ramsey MacDonald had to tell him bluntly that this could not be permitted by any Government, and he got King George to sign a "state of emergency" proclamation and showed it to the strike leaders.

Restrictions On Bathing Costumes Officially Lifted

NEW YORK — (United Press)—The saddest man on Manhattan beach today is old Tom Dorgan. Tom and his tape measure have been discarded by the beach board of censors this year and the old timer sits on a piece of bleached driftwood and puffs his pipe and strains a watery blue eye each time a dimpled vision prances past.

Back in the year 1923, Tom's job was to be a handy man around the one-piece suits and see in the name of the law that sufficient material to obstruct masculine observation and hamper swimming was worn by every girl bather. The law required stockings and there was something about the nether part of the costume extending at least 18 inches below the waist—hence the tape measure.

Tom took to that job naturally and did it well, to the point os astigmatism.

But this year, restrictions are off and so is considerable of the average beach costume. No longer need the eye be tortured by that most unsightly object, a feminine limb upon which a long black stocking depends on a safety pin to meet the black suit above.

ENTERED AT THE LIMA, OHIO, POSTOFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER

The City and The Hospital

The City of Lima now owes the City Hospital nearly $7,500 on its agreement to pay certain yearly allowance for indigent patients. The city admits the debt, and frankly says it can't pay. The same holds true of the library.

Despite this, goes forth the cry to build the new hospital with nothing for its support. While the bond interest alone will reach approximately $36,000 a year.

The News wants a new city hospital. Lima not only needs it, but people demand it. What is the answer?

Abandon The Primary

What amounts to the virtual abandonment of the primary by the Republican party of Ohio on state offices, occurred at Columbus this week, when it was decided to hold a convention on May 20th.

The only commendable part of the play, is the hope that it may result in the total abandonment of state and district primaries in Ohio, and a reversion of the convention plan of nominating officials.

While our own Congressman Cable and our former Governor Davis made protest against this set-up by the politicians, still The News believes that either Republicans or Democrats should go into state convention at their own expense, and nominate. It was done this way until the ballyhoo started, of letting the people nominate whom they wanted. The people have never had a look-in thru the primary, and never will. The poor man is down and out before he starts, the expense being far too great.

On the other side, this very pre-primary convention of the Republicans will be but makeshift. Not a politician in the bunch will have the nerve to propose, nor will the convention itself endorse a resolution to do away with our present primary law. The Republicans will be too cowardly to do this. They will not be too cowardly to try to shut out Cable and Davis, by fixing the cards, however.

Democrats and Republicans alike, should demand a pledge from the Allen-co representative to be named this fall, that he will support the repeal of the primary law. Saving taxpayers of the state and cities thousands of dollars, spent for nothing but bunk.

Handicap

Handicaps are largely imaginary. We realize this whenever we see a man who has battled and overcome exceptionally difficult handicaps of body, opportunity or circumstances.

Nelson L. Belle-Isle comes to light in Everett, Mass. He lost both legs above the knees in a railroad accident, but he is wielding pick and shovel as a city laborer. How many of us would have the nerve to tackle this hard work with such a handicap? Inspect your handicaps again. Maybe they are not as big as they looked.

o o o

James M. Cox

Ohio Democrats are very seriously entertaining the belief that former Governor James M. Cox has something more than a favorable opportunity to obtain the nomination of his party for president when the national convention is held at New York City in June.

It is predicted by Ohioans who follow the political game that the Buckeye state delegation will continue to vote for Cox thruout the national covention so long as there is a chance of his nomination.

The sweeping victory won by Governor Cox in the recent presidential primary election has given considerable impetus to his candidacy, and political writers all over the country are admitting that he will be formidable in the convention. He will have an unbroken delegation of 48 from this state, the party voters having rejected all of the McAdoo candidates, and the Californian succeeded in carrying only one county—Portage—in the preferential vote.

Whether the Ohio delegation will be as successful on the Atlantic coast as it was four years ago on the Pacific coast remains to be seen. But they are not lacking in hope.

Automobiles

At the beginning of the year 1924 it was estimated that Ohio owned automobiles would number at least 1,000,000 during the present twelve-month.

At that time, many persons were obsessed with the belief that the estimate had been placed too high. However, it has been found, according to Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, that the total for this year will exceed the million mark by many thousands.

More than 900,000 pairs of 1924 license plates have already been issued and the demand continues practically unabated, reports from local distributing agencies indicate.

Prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary have completed a million sets of tags, and will be asked to provide another 100,000, to avoid a shortage later in the year. Estimates of the number of Ohio owned automobiles is now placed at more than 200,000 over last year.

Savage

The big game hunter, Carl Akeley, says: "One of my native boys speared a young gorilla. I came to it as it lay dying. Its mother was already dead. When it saw me, it stretched out its infant arms in appeal and cried when I touched it."

Some people call this sort of thing "sport."

Stricken

In two weeks the plague kills 17,000 in the Punjab district of India. The epidemic struts in the jungles as well as cities.

Health is a matter of sanitation even more than outdoor life.

SHORTCAKE

(BY HAL COCHRAN)

I have downed corned beef and cabbage, cooked the good old English style, till my appetite was fully satisfied; and I've masticated omelets, eaten weiners by the mile, and with apple, peach and raisin I've been pied.

Many times I've chawed a sirloin, quite enough for three or four, and the same is true of other cuts of meat. But the thing that gets me peevish, drives me mad, and makes me sore, is they're always short of shortcake when I eat.

I can lasso macaroni till the service dish is bare, and they serve this food in quantities galore. I can munch on mashed potatoes with a hunger that is rare, 'cause whene'er I clean my plate there's always more.

Charlotte Russe and I are playmates for I love this fluffy dish, and I've eaten it till I was fairly puffed. And with mother's own bread-pudding I have satisfied my wish just to stuff and stuff till I was fairly stuffed.

You can name the list of dishes and I'll say I've had my share of the total lot except for one real treat. And I never will be happy or agree the deal is fair till they don't run short of shortcake when I eat.

MORE FAT SOLUBLE VITAMIN

Plain cod liver oil contains more vitamin than any other known substance. It is rich in the fat soluble vitamins which prevent rickets.

Cod liver oil, the plain, preferably unrefined or unpurified article, has long borne a good reputation in medicine. Long before the vitamins were conceived (we must remember that no one has yet discovered or identified any of the vitamins) physicians had found that cod liver oil possessed peculiar virtues as a remedy in rickets in many cases of tuberculosis, retarded growth in the young, some cases of bronchitis and some cases of depressed vitality. Since the idea of these unidentified accessory factors which are called vitamins was conceived, by reasearch workers experimenting upon animals in the study of nutrition, many of the old medical assumptions regarding the value of cod liver oil have been established on a scientific basis, and several newly recognized facts have been added to our knowledge of the effect of this sterling medicine. Again I particularize, we are speaking of plain cod liver oil. If the fresh cod livers were available to the public as food, that would be better than the oil. But the cod liver oil is the next best thing, and you have no assurance that you are getting the vitamins unless you take the unaltered cod liver oil. I have called it crude cod liver oil. Cod liver oil conforming to the standard of the Pharmacopoeia is right.

Among the conditions in which cod liver oil seems to have specific remedial effects are osteomalacia (softening of the bones,) delayed cutting of the teeth, weak or depressed vitality, retarded growth in young persons, rickets, certain cases of diarrhea in infants, many cases of nasal and bronchial infections and particularly sinusitis, xerophthalmia (dryness and irritation or inflammation of the eye-balls,) xerosis (excessive dryness and harshness of the skin, many cases of low grade conjunctivitis) (inflamed eyelids) in children, many cases of recurring boils in youths, certain cases of amenorrhea in young women, and even cases of sterility.

Nowadays it is not a bad practice to begin feeding infants a little plain cod liver oil as early as the fourth week, unless the infant is breat fed. About eight drops of cod liver oil may be given to a 4 week old bottle baby daily, perhaps mixed with orange juice, giving half of it in the forenoon and the other half in the afternoon. The amount of cod liver oil may be gradually increased from week to week, until half a teaspoonful is given daily by the end of the eighth week. Breast fed babies do not require it.

Young persons who are underweight and below the normal in stature might well get the cod liver oil habit—a teaspoonful a day for a year or two would do no harm, at any rate.

Furthermore the opening will heal surely and speedily and without leaving an unsightly scar. It is a very concentrated preparation and a small quantity lasts a long time. It is also used to reeduce swollen veins and dissolve goitre. adv.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

WHEN WE HAD IMAGINATIONS

Oh, the fun we used to know
In the distant long ago!
Then a dandelion field
Golden treasure used to yield;
Then green apples we could eat,
Sure the bitterest was sweet,
And he dog which used to be
Didn't need a pedigree.

Three or four an army made,
Fit for battles or parade.
And a sandpile served as well
For an armored citadel;
Give us but a plank or two
And we'd ride the ocean blue,
Bravely weathering every gale
With an apron for a sail.

We have but to think of things.
Pirate caves or circus rings,
And their joy was ours to know,
We could hunt for buffalo,
Or in battle bring to grief
Many a grim old Indian chief.
For we had, what's lost to men,
Real imagination, then.

Now we think all joy is real,
Something we can touch or feel,
And we cannot put away
All the trials of the day.
Letting fancy turn to gold
All the common things of old;
We have lost the power to make
Pleasure just for pleasure's sake.

Now we can't pretend to be
Sailors putting out to sea,
We are slaves to cruel facts.
Nothing fanciful attracts.
For the happy days are gone
When a dream could lure us on;
We've grown proud and learned to grieve
And we cannot make-believe.

"The Marriage Cheat"

A terrific storm at sea, culminating in a shipwreck, is one of the gripping scenes in "The Marriage Cheat," appearing again today and Friday at the Sigma theatre. The action takes place in the fabled South Seas, where the picture was filmed.

"The Marriage Cheat' 'is based on the story of Frank R. Adams, and is enacted by a cast which boasts such capable players as Percy Marmont, Leatrice Joy and Adolphe Menjou.

The story is an unusual one in many respects. The chief figure is Octavia Canfield, who has been mistreated for many years by her pleasure-seeking husband, a millionaire. Finally, driven to desperation, she leaps from his yacht while in South Sea waters and is found on the beach of an island by a young missionary.

Her baby is born before its father discovers them. In the meantime Octavia has fallen in love with the missionary, and is content to spend the rest of her life on the island. But she puts duty before love and consents to return to civilization with her husband.

Then fate, in the form of the storm, interferes and brings happiness out of the turmoil, with the husband making the great sacrifice to redeem himself.

A Ham Hamilton comedy and Fun from the Press are preliminary features.

"The Bad Man," Faurot

Theatre patrons who are always looking for something different will find it this week at the Faurot where Porter Emerson Browne's great stage success, 'The Bad Man" is holding the boards until Sunday. George Whitaker wins new laurels in the title role, which Holbrook Blinn made famous both on the stage and screen.

"The Bad Man" is a delightful satire on Pancho Villa's operations along the Mexican border. Whitaker in the title role, finds he is the friend of the man whose cattle he has stolen, and in return for saving his life several years before, the bandit attempts to settle the financial and love affairs of his friend. How he accomplishes this makes a most entertaining story.

Florence Lewin has the role of the girl who is married to one man and in love with another and Milton Reich is seen as Gilbert Jones, who is befriended by the "bad man."

The Hawkins-Ball Co. will offer Austin Strong's sensational hit, "Three Wise Fools" next week.

RECEIVERS PLAN SUITS AGAINST OHIO CONCERN

CLEVELAND — A series of suits to recover large sums of money alleged to have been paid out by the Representative Realty Co., is contemplated by receivers for that company, they indicated today. The receivers, Warren S. Stone, Maurice Bernon and James R. Hinchliffe, said they expected to meet their attorneys in a few days to plan the filing of the suits as a result of extravagant and loose management disclosed at the hearings before Special Master Evan H. Hopkins into the affairs of the Representative Realty and allied concerns.

In an address broadcast from here last night, Governor A. V. Donahey said that the Municipal Savings and Loan Co, one of the allied companies, was "wrecked by reckless speculators." If those responsible for the condition have committed criminal offense, drastic action will be taken, the governor said.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails. adv

Without rich red blood, neither your body nor brain can work right and as a result you don't seem to get anywhere in anything you attempt.

This is the time of year when you should build up increased strength, vitality and power of resistance against disease, by getting more iron into your blood. But to take the ordinary metallic forms of iron may prove worse than useless. What you need is the newer form of iron—organic iron like the natural iron in your blood—which is now prepared in simple, easy-to-take tablets called Nuxated Iron.

If you feel tired in the morning, restless at night, if you suffer from weakness or lack of vitality simply try taking two Nuxated Iron Tablets with each meal for two weeks and note the amazing change in your health, vigor, energy and endurance You should be astonished at the results in even a few days time. SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

As you have helped many others, I'm almost positive that you wouldn't mind helping me a little. I have a few questions in mind which might sound foolish to you but they sure have me puzzled.

I am a young girl 18 years of age. Am I too young to be married to a man whom I have gone with about 12 or 14 months. I have known this man for about 8 years. He is 21. Is he too old for me?

How many evenings a week should I expect him to see me? Don't you think if he really loved and cared for me, he would want to be with me more than twice a week? Sometimes, I only see him once a week.

When a fellow leaves his friend in the evening, should he make another date with her or tell her that he will call on the phone or give her some understanding?

When my friend leaves, he never speaks of us meeting again. I don't know if he thinks that I should take for granted that he will call or not. What do you think of this attitude? Is this the right way for him to act?

Please publish these questions as soon as possible as I am terribly upset over the way my friend is treating me here lately.

HEARTBROKEN.

The reason that it is not wise for girls to marry so young is that they do not look at marriage in the right light and seldom really know whether they are in love with the young man or whether it is just a case of infatuation. Personally, in your case, I think it is the latter. You would not be so undecided as to your love affair, if you were truly in love with him and he with you.

Three times a week to be with a gentleman is sufficient, or even twice. He no doubt cares for you, yes, but I don't think he is ready to ask you to marry him. If you are clever, attractive and don't try to force his attentions on you, he will no doubt be attentive to you.

When he is leaving you, perhaps he does not know when he can come out again. He no doubt has other plans for his evenings and can not always tell a week ahead when he would like to be with you. It is perfectly proper for him to call you on the telephone, only of course, he shouldn't wait until the last minute to call.

I don't think, Heart Broken, that you are in love with this man or that he is in love with you. He enjoys being with you and you no doubt have good time together so why not accept matters as they are? Don't be too eager to criticize him for you know, there are plenty of other girls for him to call on!

USIE SMART

Dear Miss Smart:

What do you think of a parent who uses to let his daughters have dates go to dances?

We are three girls, the youngest is senior in high school, an dthe oldest ... All our girl friends have good times and go to dances. The place where the dances are held are very respectable and Dad has no reason whatsoever for not wanting us to go.

Please tell us what to do.

WONDERING.

I, too, am unable to understand why your father does not wish you girls to go out to parties and dances. But, he certainly must have some reasons for forbidding you certain kinds of entertainment, because no father wishes to deprive his daughters of pleasure. Perhaps he does not care for your friends, or, he might not approve of the places you go to. Why not have a heart-to-heart talk with him, the oldest of you, and perhaps if you are in at a reasonable hour and go with young men of whom he approves, he will not object to an occasional "date."

However, it is not up to either you ... me to question his decisions regarding your entertainments and ... how he desires you to do, do.

This New Treatment Never Fails to End Piles

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain an dsoreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

Hunter's Drug Store and Green's drug store dispense MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in the original box or can get it for you on short notice.—Adv.

DRESS ENGINEER ADVOCATES BUILDING WARDROBE AS ONE BUILDS HOME

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

Until beauty, not style, is our ideal in dress, we will always have a dress problem, according to Bertha Holley, dress engineer.

She believes a wardrobe should be assembled as a home is—starting with a few good pieces. Then year by year one adds to a permanent collection instead of discarding the major portion season after season.

"A woman's first step toward freedom in dress," she says, "is to determine her color scheme and then build her permanent wardrobe closely adhering to it, so that all hats, coats, shoes and dresses may be harmonious.

"The blond will find that grays and blues with touches of warm colors, used discreetly as high spots, are her most lovely setting.

"Brown eyes call for golds and tans. For the extreme brunet the dark tones of red and purple, and black are best."

Miss Holley builds what she calls interchangeable wardrobes. She pins her faith to slips and overdresses. Every outfit starts with a foundation slip which is sleeveless and straight as to line. It is usually of satin or crepe.

Over this she arranges any number of over-tunics that transform the same slip into an evening frock, or morning dress to suit one's needs.

"The variety is gained by the use of harmonious overslips and under tunics," she explains.

Mrs. John S. Neuman and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, W. Elm-st, returned Thursday from Eagles Mill, Arkansas, where they spent the winter. Mr. Neuman remained at Eagles Mill for a time.

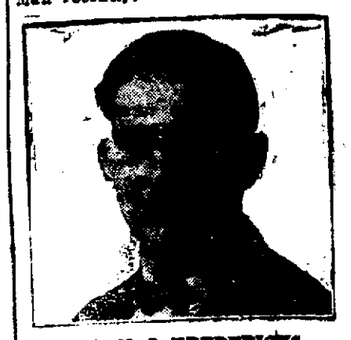
Health So Poor Had to Quit Work; States the Plant Juice Gave Relief

STOMACH TROUBLE IS GONE

"Six months ago I had to quit my work because of poor health but since I have taken your Plant Juice medicine I am feeling like a new man and am back on the job once more," said Mr. N. J. Fredericks, at 63 Wayne Avenue, Paterson, N. J., while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently.



MR. N. J. FREDERICKS

"My stomach had gotten all out of order so that my food would not digest and I was always bloated with gas which would press up around my heart at times and make it pound so hard that it would scare me," Mr. Fredericks continued. "I went on a diet but that didn't help me for everything I ate soured in my stomach. And besides this, my liver and kidneys were disordered so that I had pains in my back constantly and was always taking physics for constipation. I couldn't sleep but would walk the floor most of the night.

"When I had to quit work I went to Wilmington, Delaware, to see some of my relatives a few days and while there I heard of Plant Juice. My cousin and my aunt, who is 87 years old and even my sister's little boy of three years had all taken Plant Juice with wonderful results. So I started taking Plant Juice and, as I said before, it surely helped me and has made me feel like a new man and even put me back at work.

"Since taking Plant Juice, all my ailments are gone. I digest everything I eat now and never have gas or bloating and I surely eat some and never give a thought to a diet. And my liver and kidneys work fine. The pains have left my back; headaches are only memories now and I have been relieved of the constipation. I sleep fine, get up mornings feeling rested and with new energy and ambition and am glad to indorse your Plant Juice."

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

"I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118 E. Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, will thoroly flush the kidneys and increase their activity.—Adv.

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

by RUBY AYRES

© NEA SERVICE

She escaped past him now, and went into the hall, where Miss Varney and Dora Fisher stood together. Mary thought that the latter looked at her rather curiously as she joined them; she was conscious of her hot cheeks and nervous manner. She went on to the front door, and stood looking out into the darkening garden.

The headlights of the big car pierced the gloom like vicious eyes, throwing everything beyond into acute shadow.

Bretherton passed her and climbed into the front seat; he did not look at her.

After a moment or two Dora followed him; she was laughing and talking all the time; she shook hands with Mary effusively.

"THANK YOU. BUT I SHALL NOT BE HERE MUCH LONGER."

"I am so pleased to have met you," she said. "I hope we shall be great friends. You must come and stay with us in town, will you?"

Mary's troubled eyes turned towards David, but he was sitting at the wheel, staring straight in front of him. She began a stumbling reply.

"Thank you—thank you very much. But I shall not be here much longer; I am only on a visit, you know. Thank you very much, all the same."

A little flash of interest crept into Dora's face, but it was gone instantly.

"Is that so? I didn't know; but perhaps you will be able to spare us a week-end sometime. Goodby."

She got into the car beside David. He drew the rug around her punctiliously; Mary watched them with an absurd little heartache.

She resented Dora being there in her place; she stood in the cool darkness for some moments after the car had turned out of the drive.

Miss Varney called to her from the hall.

"Come in, my dear—come in! You will catch your death of cold!"

Mary obeyed reluctantly; she was surprised to find that she was quite chilled. She walked back to the drawing-room and knelt down by the fire; Miss Varney followed.

"I'm glad she didn't stay," she said, with a little comfortable laugh. "I do try to like her, for David's sake, but in my heart I don't really like her at all."

Mary did not look around; she was holding her hands to the blaze.

"Why—why for David's sake?" she asked, rather constrainedly.

"Well, for one reason, her brother is his greatest friend, and for another—well, they have known each other all their lives."

"I see! Do you—do you think he will—marry her?"

Miss Varney said "Good heavens!" in a voice of horror.

She stared down at Mary's black-robed figure with eyes that were almost frightened.

"My dear child! What put such an idea into your head?"

Mary laughed.

"Oh, I don't know. Why should it be anything so very strange, after all? You say they are old friends, and she is very—pretty."

"Humph! Well, everyone to their taste," said Miss Varney. "But, personally, I prefer a woman to be less like an expensive dressed-up doll. And if David ever marries, I hope he'll be sensible and choose a wife like you, my dear, if I may say so."

"Oh!" The little exclamation escaped Mary involuntarily. She colored sensitively.

"Well, I mean what I say," Miss Varney asserted. "Women of your type are those who make men happy; the women who make a real 'home' in its best sense—not a doll, without a thought in her head beyond new frocks and jewelry. But apart from that, I'm quite sure that David has never given her a serious thought."

Mary did not answer; her thoughts were away along the dark road with the two in that speeding car.

She despised herself because she felt angry and jealous, and yet she could not crush the feeling. When Miss Varney left her, she rose to her feet and went over to the window, drawing aside the blind.

It was not nearly time for David to come back yet, but all the same she found herself straining her ears for a sound of the returning car, or a gleam of its powerful headlights thru the darkness.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Not Encouraging

But David and his companion had not yet reached the station; the engine was running badly, and once it almost failed on a hill leading down to the village.

Dora was secretly rather pleased; she calculated that if they were to lose this train, she would have to spend the night at the Red Grange; there was another train to town, but it would mean reaching home so late, she knew that David would never consent to her going by it alone.

But the engine improved after the first half mile. David turned to her with an apologetic smile.

"I'm sorry to have been so unentertaining; there is something wrong with the engine. I hope we shall get to the station safely."

Dora laughed.

"I hope so, too. It wouldn't be very nice being left on the roadside so late as this, would it?"

David leaned forward and consulted the little clock opposite.

"It's not very late," he said, in a matter-of-fact voice. "And we could always walk back."

She frowned a little impatiently; he was always so dull, she told herself with a sense of irritation. Why was it that she could never make him talk to her as other men did? Apparently her beauty and expensive clothes were nothing to him.

But in spite of her irritation, his indifference piqued her; she made every effort to interest him.

She began to speak about Mary.

"Such a dear!" she gushed. "I had no idea she was so nice. Monty never thought much of her, you know."

"No?"

"He said he considered she was rather common, but I should hardly call her that, would you?"

"Hardly."

It was not encouraging, but she went on:

"I was so surprised when she told me that she is only with you on a visit. I quite thought that she was going to live here."

"I hope she will." The answer was quiet and unconcerned.

Dora bit her lip angrily, but her voice was sugary enough when she next spoke.

"Do you? How awfully sweet of you! I think she is so fortunate to have such kind relations-in-law; as a rule they are rather horrid, don't you think?"

"I've never been married—so I can't judge," said David. He sent the car forward a trifle more quickly; thru the night had sounded the distant whistle of the incoming train.

"I think we shall just catch it," he said smoothly.

The train was at the platform when they left the car outside the station; there were only a few seconds in which to say goodby.

Dora swallowed her chagrin as best she could; her pretty face was wreathed in smiles as she leaned from the carriage window.

"It has been so nice to see you again; you won't forget us next time you come to London, David?"

"I certainly will not. Tell Monty I will look him up."

She pouted.

"That means the office."

"Not at all; I will make a special point of calling to see you."

But the words were impartial, in spite of the accompanying smile; the last glimpse she had of him was his grave face, from which all consciousness of her was already fading.

CHAPTER XXXIV

A Change of Color

She sat back in her corner of the empty carriage frowningly. After all, she almost regretted having paid the visit at all; Red Grange had seemed even more alluring than she had previously remembered it, and David less susceptible to her charms.

Why was he so different from all the other men of her acquaintance? she asked herself angrily. She could enumerate half a dozen in as many seconds who would have given anything for the chance of a possibly lengthened tete-a-tete with her; but David had merely driven the car faster to get rid of her.

But David's very indifference lent a spur to her hitherto only half-formed resolve. She would marry him; she would marry him in spite of everything, and be mistress of the Red Grange.

And as for that pale-faced widow of Nigel's—Dora's face hardened as she recalled the friendly way in which she and David had entered the drawing-room that afternoon, fresh from their drive.

Monty had been right when he said that from what he knew of the girl she would lose no opportunity to entrench herself at the Red Grange; and she had certainly done a lot during the short time of her stay there.

"Scheming little nobody!" was the thought in Dora's mind.

She tried to remember what else Monty had said about her beside the fact that she was common; she knit her brows, puzzling her brain to remember.

There was something else, she was sure; something—oh, yes, he had called her "pretty, in a sort of a way," and commented on the fact that she had red-brown hair.

That was so like a man, to make such a mistake! Red-brown hair, indeed! Why, it was the most ordinary mouse-colored shade!

And her clothes! Dora indulged in a little smile as she remembered Mary's simple black frock; home-made, she had designated it from the first. Whatever on earth could Nigel have seen in her? Nigel, who always so admired a smart woman.

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Was glad to get your telegram, old man, for it told me that you were really on the road to recovery. Both Leslie and I are very, very glad that you are going to spend some of the time of your convalescence in our city, and we wish most heartily that we had room in that little apartment of ours to put you up.

You did not state when you are coming, consequently I am writing to say that Leslie is called to New York this evening to welcome her parents home. You remember her younger sister, Alice? She is going to marry that guy that was so sweet on Leslie. I wish him joy with her, but if he was fond of Leslie I can't understand why he could transfer his affections to that ambitious, self-centered, egotistical little mortal. Between you and me I bet she roped him in. She is sure to be one of those managing women, and I pity Whitney from the bottom of my heart.

Of course I haven't said anything of this to Leslie, for I am sure she admires her sister very much. I'll bet, however, in the future she will be happier if she doesn't see much of the Whitneys.

Leslie hopes that you will not come to us until after she has returned from New York. She won't be there but two or three days, however. In the meantime my mother is coming over. She will not stay at our house (she was quite horrified to find out that we hadn't a guest chamber waiting for somebody to occupy it). We, however, were able to find her a small apartment, one that Leslie's mother occupied when she was here.

I don't know how long mother will stay, but she is bringing her nurse and companion with her, and I fancy there will be many times that she will wish to be alone. Consequently I think the arrangement is better than as if she were cooped up in our apartment with Leslie, the baby as well as myself, whom you know am not always the easiest person to live with.

I wonder if I talked to you very much about my secretary, Mrs. Sally Atherton, when I was down there. Of course I know I mentioned her to you quite frequently; but did I tell you anything about her peculiar sentimental bimses. She came back from the funeral of her husband the day I returned, and settled down immediately to the routine of business. She wouldn't allow me to mention her husband's name to her—told me that he had been a stranger, almost, to her for a long while.

I want you to meet her, Syd. I think you will be fascinated by her. I have never had a man come into my office that could keep his eyes off of her, and yet she is not a pretty woman, and pays very little attention to her clothes. Her hair is bobbed and straight, and she mostly dresses in tweed suits, and yet, with all her assumption of mannishness, she is the most feminine thing I have ever known in my life. She stirs your senses before she speaks.

Hastily,

JACK.

THEIBERT RESIGNS POSITION AS ATHLETIC MENTOR

SISLER'S BROWNS NOSE INTO FIRST DIVISION

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — The Philadelphia Athletics lost their ninth consecutive game Wednesday and now they stand at the bottom of the American League. Batting strength of the Yankees yesterday defeated Philadelphia 7 to 4 for the third straight game of the series.

The Boston Red Sox, one of the pre-season mystery teams had their winning streak brought to an abrupt termination by the Washington team, 5 to 4.

George Sisler's St. Louis Browns, slow in starting, appear to be working smoothly in high gear now and Wednesday they drove beyond the second division limits with a ten to eight victory over Cleveland and pulled up into a tie with the White Sox for fourth position, the Chicago team being halted by rain. Jacobson, Brown center fielder, made five hits in five times at bat.

The Giants continue to lead the parade in the National League, gaining a half game on the Reds by defeating the Phillies in ten innings, 4 to 2, while the Reds were forced into idiness by wet grounds at St. Louis. The Cubs gained a notch on the Dodgers in the privte fight for third place when they turned back the Pirates, 5 to 1, while the Dodgers were losing to the Braves, 1 to 1.

CLEVELAND — St. Louis defeated Cleveland Wednesday 10 to 8. After St. Louis drove Coveleskie from the box and scored six runs in the first inning Cleveland tied it up in the second and went to the front in the third only to let the Browns take the lead again in the fifth when Levson was driven from the rubber. Jacobson made five hits in five times up. Score:

CHICAGO — Battling Siki, giant Senegalese, is to arrive in Chicago Thursday to begin training for a bout in Omaha Monday night.

CHICAGO—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, is scheduled to fight Connie Currie, Sioux City, here next Tuesday night.

NEW YORK—Sarazen, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's three-year old will not start in the Kentucky derby, Max Hirsch, trainer of the stable, announced. He said that the gelding was not in condition to race.

EVERETT, Mass. — Danny McFayden, pitcher of the Somerville high school team, fanned 32 batters in a 17-inning game, but he lost to Everett High 2 to 1 when the squeeze play scored the winning run.

Clever Coach Leaves For Proviso

Announcement of resignation of R. J. Theibert as head of the Department of Athletics at Central High School, to take effect on June 1, was made Wednesday afternoon.

Theibert, for two years, chief mentor at the local school has received a very lucrative offer from Proviso High School at Maywood, Illinois, and deemed it advisable to give up his duties in Lima.

Altho special effort was made to keep Theibert in Lima it was without result and accordingly a new man must be found to fill Theibert's place.

J. E. Collins, superintendent of schools, announces that no successor has been appointed altho several are under consideration.

While in Lima Theibert has made an enviable reputation as director of athletics and as coach to the football squads. It is undoubtedly to his knowledge and successful methods in handling players, that Central High owes its considerable success during the season just passed. The loss of Theibert will be doubly felt by the boys in training at this time because thru his keen insight into their capabilities several boys of the track team were destined to shine in events that were to come.

Theibert was a splendid ball player and would have most likely been seen with the local league team at second during the coming season. He is a fine fielder and a good hitter.

It is understood that Theibert, takes the position of head coach of the light weight division of football at the Illinois institution and will also have full charge of basketball as well as track and baseball.

Delphos High Plays Game Friday

Delphos High school will meet Van Wert on the local grounds in Delphos Friday afternoon. Coach Goriell states that the Delphos boys are going good and that he confidently expects another victory. He stated that Williams would be in the box for Delphos, but he will hold Bigelow and Evans in reserve.

The local school team have not lost a game this season, and are in good condition and from their playing strength comes the belief that they will beat Van Wert in this coming game. The change in the pitching staff is the only one that will be made in the lineup. Van Wert's lineup has not been received.

ST JOHNS GAME

There is a great deal of speculation going on among the devotees of the St Johns team, over the coming game with St. Johns of Lima. "Yuck" Schmidt, captain and manager of the team will be in the box for Delphos. They won their last game, and according to Schmidt the team has been given some very strenuous workouts in the past few days and will go against the Lima nine in the best of condition.

On Tuesday of next week Delphos St. Johns meet Convoy, on the home grounds at Clay street. Convoy defeated the St. Johns in their last game by a one point margin, and every single player have made up their minds to win it back. Schmidt is confident they will win.

Romero Meets First Test

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK—(United Press) — Quintin Romero, the Chilean heavyweight champion, who was picked by Tex Rickard to humiliate Luis Angel Firpo, will have the build up started on him Friday night when he meets Floyd Johnson, Iowa, in Madison Square Garden.

Romero signed a contract with Rickard to submit to three tests which would prove what chance he had to give South America a second crack at the world's heavyweight championship.

Rickard said Thursday that if Romero defeats Johnson, he will be sent against Jack Renault, Canadian champion, in a bout at the Velodrome on June 21, and if he survives that bout he will be asked to put Harry Wills out of the running for a match with Dempsey.

Romero, in his training for the Johnson contest, has failed to impress the critics and the prediction is made freely that his career will be very short lived.

Romero is very strong, but he knows no more of the fine points of boxing than Firpo does. He handles his hands better on the defense than the Angel and his footwork is a little better. He has not had a chance yet to show what kind of a heart he has.

Critics who saw Romero fighting in Paris, said that his greatest assets were his courage and his ability to stand up under any kind of punishment. He was also said to posses a very heavy right hand.

Johnson is no great hitter and Romero, unless he is a terrible bust, should be able to take anything thrown at him as he seems to be in good physical condition.

300 And More Compete At Ottawa

OTTAWA — Teams representing the High schools of Putnam-co will be entered in the events scheduled for the annual track meet to be held Saturday afternoon at the Fair grounds.

In most cases, boys and girls from each town are entered in all the events.

Representatives will be present from Continental, Ottawa, Vaughnsville, Grawfis College, Pandora, Leipsic and Columbus Grove.

A potato race, relay races for boys and girls, shot put, 440 yard dash, 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, 880 yard dash, bread jump, high jump and other athletic events compose the program. More than 300 High school pupils are expected to attend.

Wooster Game With Mount Acid Test

WOOSTER, Ohio — Wooster College will meet Ohio Northern here in baseball Friday and the track squad will go to Alliance Saturday to compete with the Purple of Mount Union.

The baseball game will be the acid test of the season so far for the Wooster team. The Ada aggregation is composed of the hardest hitters in Ohio colleges. The team is composed of old experienced players and is practically intact from last season.

The Wooster team may be shifted slightly for this game. Langell may go to first base in case Starn is used in the box. Graber is also likely to get the call for this place. Just which of the pitchers will start will depend largely on the weather. Graber, who has been effective at times, does not seem to go well unless the weather is warm.

The track meet with Mount Union should be a nip and tuck affair from start. Both teams lost to Akron by about the same scores. Both Wooster and Mount are strong in the dashes and the field events. Some real thrills seem certain. Coaches Munson and Boles are working the tracksters here to the limit to get them in shape to give Mont a real battle.

PHILADELPHIA — Announcing that he was paying his tuition at the University of Pennsylvania, by writing tennis articles for a newspaper, Carl Fisher, inter-collegiate tennis champion, said he was forced to resign from the Olympic and Davis cup squads by the "player-writer" rule of the tennis association.

PHILLIES GIVE EXTRA INNING GAME TO GIANTS

The grounds were too wet at St. Louis to play ball, consequently the Reds lost a half-game advantage because from some reason or other the Giants beat out Williams & Co., of Philadelphia, Penna. It was understood that McGraw had been protesting vigorously over the fact that Williams had been hitting the ball all together too hard, with the result that the Giants pennant march was unnecessarily delayed; there had been a set-back of two full games, which has had a demoralizing effect on the morale of the champs, especially the pitchers; as a matter of fact the result had calculated to throw suspicion on their reputation.

What arrangements had been entered into between McGraw and Williams could not be ascertained, but the fact is significant for Williams did not make a hit Wednesday. But at that it was a 10 inning affair, and the Giants were allowed to take the better of the argument only after a glaring error on the part of Woehrs. Whether he got messed up or had a grudge against someone in the grand stand, or was after the ball throwing record is not known, but it is certain that McGraw and the Giants got the game without winning it.

Back at the Hub of the Universe, one "Rube" Marquard, who in 1912, while a member of the Giants, began pitching on April 11, and kept on in regular rotation until July 3, of the same year. He won nineteen straight games and thereby hung up the longest string of victories, which was only equalled in major leagues, by Keefe, also a Giant in 1888, that there is any record of. But the rule is to cast off these old heroes, as soon as they show signs of slipping. It was Brooklyn that grabbed him after New York let him go. Thru the ages (baseball ages) he drifted to Boston, Wednesday he set old time mates back by a score of 4-1. There's something in the old arm yet.

GIANTS-PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press)—New York was forced to [illegible] innings to beat Philadelphia Wednesday, 4 to 2. An error of judgment on the part of Third Baseman Woehrs was responsible for Kelly scoring the winning run for the Giants. Score.

SEELEY GETS MEDAL

At Purdue university recently Coach James H. Phelan presented medals to thirty-eight members of the football squad, a practice he introduced several years ago. Among the athletes who received them was Walter Seeley, of Lima. Walter was a star football and basketball player for Central High during his school days here, and it is gratifying to know that he is upholding the honor and reputation of his home town as an athlete on one of the most prominent college teams in the country.

St. Johns Team Will Play Delphos

Much interest is being manifest in the baseball game to be played Saturday afternoon between St. John's High of Delphos and Lima St John's High teams. The game will be played at Murphy-st park at 2:30.

There is a strong rivalry existing between there two schools and a hard fought game should result.

Both teams are undergoing strenuous practice sessions this week but no definite line-ups have been announced by either manager. However, it is almost a certainty that both squads will employ the same batteries as in past games.

"Red" Ulm and "Yuck" Schmidt will compose the Delphos battery while Bowers and Kesner will be on the firing line for Lima.

BALTIMORE—The withdrawal of J. S. Ward's Wise Counseller, an outstanding Preakness candidate, from a scheduled start at Pimlico Wednesday came as a great disappointment to turf followers who had counted on seeing the colt in action. Because of a slight ailment, it was said, his trainer decided not to take a chance with the steadying impost of 122 pounds up. Bracadle's defeat at Jamaica, after he had shown his heels to Sarazen, was another occurrence of the day which caused much comment.

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Stock prices moved irregularly lower at the opening of today's stock market with most of the standard industrials recording fractional recessions on initial sales. General Electric dropped a point. Oils again were heavy but the rails held relatively firm.

Prices developed a more reactionary trend as trading progressed and recessions as a rule were held to a point or less. American Can, Baldwin and Studebaker each sold about a point below yesterday's final figures while Yellow Cab, Goodyear prior preferred, Atlantic Coast Line and Famous Players dropped a point or more. Interborough Rapid Transit, up 1 1-4 and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, up 3-4, were among the few issues to move against the current trend. Foreign exchanges were weak, demand sterling showing an overnight drop of about two cents at $4 36 1-2.

Weakness of the foreign exchange markets and reports of another increase in crude oil production by the American Petroleum Institute were regarded as contributing factors to the morning selling.

Trading, however, was relatively light in volume. Oils were the hardest hit as a group, Atlantic Refining dropping nearly five points and General Asphalt, Pacific Oil, Producers and Refiners and Sinclair losing a point or so, the last named duplicating its previous low of 186 5-8. Baldwin and General Electric extended their early losses to 1 1-2 points each, while U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, American Radiator, Central Leather preferred, Marine preferred, Corn Products and Mack Truck were added to the list of stocks to sell a point or so below yesterday's final figures. Call money opened at 3 1-2 per cent.

Desultory price movements characterized today's stock market, one of the dullest full day sessions this year. Oils yielded readily to selling pressure on reports of another increase in crude production. Allied exchanges were decidedly weak. Sales approximated 500,000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

PIPE IS PAINTED

Delphos Waterworks Benefits When Man "Works Out" Fine

DELPHOS — For years the old city standpipe at Waterworks park has needed painting. Thursday work was begun on its improvement, and the old landmark is being blackened by a master of the art. J. C. Clark, of Toledo, is working off his $100 fine.

Clark was taken into custody by Chief of Police Clark Thompson, and was arraigned before Mayor George N. LeSure on a charge of possessing liquor. He was fined $100.

But Clark was penniless.

When he told the court how flat his bankroll was, the mayor, who is an accommodating person, sought to help him out of his predicament.

He asked the prisoner what his occupation was. Clark replied he was an interior decorator.

"Fine," concluded the mayor, "that settles it. There's a 120-foot standpipe at Waterworks park that needs painting. Go to work Thursday morning and when the stack's painted you'll be paid."

Clark went to work early Thursday morning. He figures it'll be about three weeks before he and the city will be square.

REMODELING OPERATIONS REFLECTED IN PERMITS

Building permits issued by the city Wednesday afternoon and Thursday provided for the erection of three homes and two garages, and include several minor improvements, all of which are to be completed at a cost of $10,475.

C. P. Morey, of 402 E. Kibby-st. is constructing a 6-room, $4,000 residence at 801 E. Vine-st.

Gus Cira, 821 N. Metcalf-st. will begin immediately on the erection of a $4,000 residence at the same address.

Mrs. Ana Boop, of 1135 Central-av, is building a 4-room cottage at a cost of $1,000.

Fred Oestricker, 558 W. Grand-av, and L. R. Mack, 516 Ohio-st, are constructing garages to cost $150 and $125 respectively.

Other permits issued were to L. A. Dolt, 204 S. Woodlawn-av, remodel residence, $100; F. J. Lamont, 130 E. Second-st, remodel residence, $600; F. E. Moore, 329 N. Elizabeth-st, remodel residence, $200 and A. C. Gansz, 923 Richie-av, remodel residence, $200.

PRICES OF WHEAT ON DECLINE

Outlook as to Farm Legislation is Bearish Factor

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Slight Losses in Corn Quotations Also Registered

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — All grain showed a downward tendency in price today during the early dealings. Commission houses were generally on the selling side. In the wheat market, trade was broader than of late, with the chief bearish factors the outlook regarding farm legislation at Washington and the reported virtual collapse of the Argentine strike. Wheat opening prices which ranged from ½ to ⅝c lower, May $1.03⅝ to 1.04 and July $1.05⅜ to 1.06 were followed by a slight further decline.

Corn dropped to nearly 75 cents for May delivery, the lowest price in some time. Buying support became less in evidence as the fall of values continued with standing orders being automatically forced into action to stop losses at certain levels. After opening ⅛ to ¼c off, May 75¾ to 76c and July 77⅛c, the market rallied a little but then underwent a material setback.

Oats started at a shade to ⅛c lower, July 44⅛ and later made a further descent.

Provisions were steadied by an upturn in hog values.

Final wheat quotations were unsettled 3-8 to 3-4c net lower; May $1.03 3-4 and July $1.05 5-8 to 1.05 5-8@3-4.

The corn market closed unsettled 3-4c net lower to 1-4c advance, May 75 7-8 to 76 and July 76 5-8 to 76 5-8@3-4.

All Enter Not Guilty Pleas to Grand Jury Indictments

HEARING TO BE IN JUNE

Two Liquor Cases on Docket for Court Disposition

OTTAWA — Nine of the ten prisoners indicted by the recent January grand jury, in special session, were arraigned this week before Judge Fred Wolf and allowed to plead to the charges contained in the indictments.

Each said they were not guilty and all declared they would stand trial.

"I only stood on the outside and caught the goods as they flew thru the window." This was the explanation Tony Martin, negro gave of his alleged participation in the robbery of Fischer's store in Townwood.

He was indicted on a charge of robbery. His bond was set at $500. A. A. Slaybaugh was appointed by the court to defend him.

Eugene Trice, of Columbus Grove, indicted on a charge of forgery in saying he was not guilty, told the court he was not able financially to employ an attorney to defend him and Albert Stirman was appointed by the court to act as his lawyer.

Dewey Conine and Vernon Dangler, indicted for larceny of a quantity of cloverseed from an Ottawa-tp farmer, entered not guilty pleas and are under bail. Bond of Conine was set at $600 and that for Dangler at $100.

TWO BOOZE HEARINGS

Perry O Rohrer, farmer, residing near Columbus Grove, indicted on a charge of incest and with subscribing his sister-in-law reserved the right to withdraw his plea of not guilty and file a motion or demurrer of the indictment. Bond was set at $1,000.

Max Sheets, James Porterfield and Floyd Ordway all of whom were indicted on a charge of manufacturing distilled liquors, declares they were not guilty. Bond for each was set at $2,000.

Porterfield and Ordway were arrested following a raid in Putnam-co by state prohibition enforcement agents in which a still and a quantity of liquor was found on the upper floor of a house on the farm of Julius S. Ocan, county prosecutor, which the men had leased. This was located near Kelleyville.

Kingsbury Murray pleaded not guilty to abandonment of a woman in a delicate condition of health the person offering the complaint being Mrs Maud Murray his wife.

Judge Eastman will set the time of the trial of each at a later date, after he concludes his work in Cleveland.

The person against whom the other indictment was returned is not yet under arrest.

THEIBERT RESIGNS POSITION AS ATHLETIC MENTOR

SISLER'S BROWNS NOSE INTO FIRST DIVISION

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — The Philadelphia Athletics lost their ninth consecutive game Wednesday and now they stand at the bottom of the American League. Batting strength of the Yankees yesterday defeated Philadelphia 7 to 4 for the third straight game of the series.

The Boston Red Sox, one of the pre-season mystery teams had their winning streak brought to an abrupt termination by the Washington team, 5 to 4.

George Sisler's St. Louis Browns, slow in starting, appear to be working smoothly in high gear now and Wednesday they drove beyond the second division limits with a ten to eight victory over Cleveland and pulled up into a tie with the White Sox for fourth position, the Chicago team being halted by rain. Jacobson, Brown center fielder, made five hits in five times at bat.

The Giants continue to lead the parade in the National League, gaining a half game on the Reds by defeating the Phillies in ten innings, 4 to 2, while the Reds were forced into idleness by wet grounds at St. Louis. The Cubs gained a notch on the Dodgers in the privte fight for third place when they turned back the Pirates, 5 to 1, while the Dodgers were losing to the Braves, 4 to 1.

CLEVELAND — St. Louis defeated Cleveland Wednesday 10 to 8. After St. Louis drove Coveleskie from the box and scored six runs in the first inning Cleveland tied it up in the second and went to the front in the third only to let the Browns take the lead again in the fifth when Leyson was driven from the rubber. Jacobson made five hits in five times up. Score:

Clever Coach Leaves For Proviso

Announcement of resignation of R. J. Theibert as head of the Department of Athletics at Central High School, to take effect on June 1, was made Wednesday afternoon.

Theibert, for two years, chief mentor at the local school has received a very lucrative offer from Proviso High School at Maywood, Illinois, and deemed it advisable to give up his duties in Lima.

Altho special effort was made to keep Theibert in Lima it was without result and accordingly a new man must be found to fill Theibert's place.

J. E. Colling, superintendent of schools, announces that no successor has been appointed altho several are under consideration.

While in Lima Theibert has made an enviable reputation as director of athletics and as coach to the football squads. It is undoubtedly to his knowledge and successful methods in handling players, that Central High owes its considerable success during the season just passed. The loss of Theibert will be doubly felt by the boys in training at this time, because, thru his keen insight into their capabilities several boys of the trackteam were destined to shine in events that were to come.

Theibert was a splendid ball player and would have most likely been seen with the local league team at second during the coming season. He is a fine fielder and a good hitter.

It is understood that Theibert, takes the position of head coach of the light weight division of football at the Illinois institution and will also have full charge of basketball as well as track and baseball.

Delphos High Plays Game Friday

Delphos High school will meet Van Wert on the local grounds in Delphos Friday afternoon. Coach Gorrell states that the Delphos boys are going good and that he confidently expects another victory. He stated that Williams would be in the box for Delphos, but he will hold Bigelow and Evans in reserve.

The local school team have not lost a game this season, and are in good condition and from their playing strength comes the belief that they will beat Van Wert in this coming game. The change in the pitching staff is the only one that will be made in the lineup. Van Wert's lineup has not been received.

ST JOHNS GAME

There is a great deal of speculation going on among the devotees of the St. Johns team, over the coming game with St. Johns of Lima. "Yuck" Schmidt, captain and manager of the team will be in the box for Delphos. They won their last game, and according to Schmidt the team has been given some very strenuous workouts in the past few days and will go against the Lima nine in the best of condition.

On Tuesday of next week Delphos St Johns meet Convoy, on the home grounds at Clay street. Convoy defeated the St. Johns in their last game by a one point margin, and every single player have made up their minds to win it back. Schmidt is confident they will win.

Romero Meets First Test

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK—(United Press) — Quintin Romero, the Chilean heavyweight champion, who was picked by Tex Rickard to humiliate Luis Angel Firpo, will have the build up started on him Friday night when he meets Floyd Johnson, Iowa, in Madison Square Garden.

Romero signed a contract with Rickard to submit to three tests which would prove what chance he had to give South America a second crack at the world's heavyweight championship.

Rickard said Thursday that if Romero defeats Johnson, he will be sent against Jack Renault, Canadian champion, in a bout at the Velodrome on June 21, and if he survives that bout he will be asked to put Harry Wills out of the running for a match with Dempsey.

Romero, in his training for the Johnson contest, has failed to impress the critics and the prediction is made freely that his career will be very short lived.

Romero is very strong, but he knows no more of the fine points of boxing than Firpo does. He handles his hands better on the defense than the Angel and his footwork is a little better. He has not had a chance yet to show what kind of a heart he has.

Critics who saw Romero fighting in Paris, said that his greatest assets were his courage and his ability to stand up under any kind of punishment. He was also said to posses a very heavy right hand.

Johnson is no great hitter and Romero, unless he is a terrible bust, should be able to take anything thrown at him as he seems to be in good physical condition.

300 And More Compete At Ottawa

OTTAWA — Teams representing the High schools of Putnam-co will be entered in the events scheduled for the annual track meet to be held Saturday afternoon at the Fair grounds.

In most cases, boys and girls from each town are entered in all the events.

Representatives will be present from Continental, Ottawa, Vaughnsville, Grawtis College, Pandora, Leipsic and Columbus Grove.

A potato race, relay races for boys and girls, shot put, 440 yard dash, 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, 880 yard dash, broad jump, high jump and other athletic events compose the program. More than 300 High school pupils are expected to attend.

Wooster Game With Mount Acid Test

WOOSTER, Ohio — Wooster College will meet Ohio Northern here in baseball Friday and the track squad will go to Alliance Saturday to compete with the Purple of Mount Union.

The baseball game will be the acid test of the season so far for the Wooster team. The Ada aggregation is composed of the hardest hitters in Ohio colleges. The team is composed of old experienced players and is practically intact from last season.

The Wooster team may be shifted slightly for this game. Langell may go to first base in case Starn is used in the box. Graber is also likely to get the call for this place. Just which of the pitchers will start will depend largely on the weather. Graber, who has been effective at times, does not seem to go well unless the weather is warm.

The track meet with Mount Union should be a nip and tuck affair from start. Both teams lost to Akron by about the same scores. Both Wooster and Mount are strong in the dashes and the field events. Some real thrills seem certain. Coaches Munson and Boles are working the tracksters here to the limit to get them in shape to give Mont a real battle.

PHILADELPHIA — Announcing that he was paying his tuition at the University of Pennsylvania, by writing tennis articles for a newspaper, Carl Fisher, inter-collegiate tennis champion, said he was forced to resign from the Olympic and Davis cup squads by the "player-writer" rule of the tennis association.

PHILLIES GIVE EXTRA INNING GAME TO GIANTS

The grounds were too wet at St. Louis to play ball, consequently the Reds lost a half-game advantage because from some reason or other the Giants beat out Williams & Co., of Philadelphia, Penna. It was understood that McGraw had been protesting vigorously over the fact that Williams had been hitting the ball all together too hard, with the result that the Giants pennant march was unnecessarity delayed; there had been a set-back of two full games, which has had a demoralizing effect on the morale of the champs, especially the pitchers; as a matter of fact the result had calculated to throw suspicion on their reputation.

What arrangements had been entered into between McGraw and Williams could not be ascertained, but the fact is significant for Williams did not make a hit Wednesday. But at that it was a 10 inning affair, and the Giants were allowed to take the better of the argument only after a glaring error on the part of Woehrs. Whether he got messed up or had a grudge against someone in the grand stand, or was after the ball throwing record is not known, but it is certain that McGraw and the Giants got the game without winning it.

Back at the Hub of the Universe, one "Rube" Marquard, who in 1912, while a member of the Giants, began pitching on April 11, and kept on in regular rotation until July 3, of the same year. He won nineteen straight games and thereby hung up the longest string of victories, which was only equalled in major leagues, by Keefe, also a Giant in 1888, that there is any record of. But the rule is to cast off these old heroes, as soon as they show signs of slipping. It was Brooklyn that grabbed him after New York let him go. Thru the ages (baseball ages) he drifted to Boston. Wednesday he set old time mates back by a score of 4-1. There's something in the old arm yet.

GIANTS-PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press)—New York won over Philadelphia in ten innings to beat Philadelphia Wednesday, 4 to 2. An error of judgment on the part of Third Baseman Woehrs was responsible for Kelly scoring the winning run for the Giants. Score.

SEELEY GETS MEDAL

At Purdue university recently Coach James H. Phelan presented medals to thirty-eight members of the football squad, a practice he introduced several years ago. Among the athletes who received them was Walter Seeley, of Lima. Walter was a star football and basketball player for Central High during his school days here, and it is gratifying to know that he is upholding the honor and reputation of his home town as an athlete on one of the most prominent college teams in the country.

St. Johns Team Will Play Delphos

Much interest is being manifest in the baseball game to be played Saturday afternoon between St. John's High of Delphos and Lima St John's High teams. The game will be played at Murphy-st park at 2:30.

There is a strong rivalry existing between there two schools and a hard fought game should result.

Both teams are undergoing strenous practice sessions this week but no definite line-ups have been announced by either manager. However, it is almost a certainty that both squads will employ the same batteries as in past games.

"Red" Ulm and "Yuck" Schmidt will compose the Delphos battery while Bowers and Kesner will be on the firing line for Lima.

BALTIMORE—The withdrawal of J. S. Ward's Wise Counseller, an outstanding Preakness candidate, from a scheduled start at Pimlico Wednesday came as a great disappointment to turf followers who had counted on seeing the colt in action. Because of a slight ailment, it was said, his trainer decided not to take a chance with the steadying impost of 122 pounds up. Bracadle's defeat at Jamaica, after he had shown his heels to Sarazen, was another occurrence of the day which caused much comment.

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Stock prices moved irregularly lower at the opening of today's stock market with most of the standard industrials recording fractional recessions on initial sales. General Electric dropped a point but its gains were heavy but the rails held relatively firm.

Prices developed a more reactionary trend as trading progressed and recessions as a rule were held to a point or less. American Can, Baldwin and Studebaker each sold about a point below yesterday's final figures while Yellow Cab, Goodyear prior preferred, Atlantic Coast Line and Famous Players dropped a point or more. Interborough Rapid Transit, up 1 1-4 on New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, up 3-4, were among the few issues to move against the current trend. Foreign exchanges were weak, demand sterling showing an overnight drop of about two cents at $4 26 1-2.

Weakness of the foreign exchange markets and reports of another increase in crude oil production by the American Petroleum Institute were regarded as contributing factors to the morning selling

Trading, however, was relatively light in volume. Oils were the hardest hit as a group, Atlantic Reming dropping nearly five points and General Asphalt, Pacific Oil, Producers and Refiners and Sinclair losing a point or so, the last named duplicating its previous low at 186 5-8. Baldwin and General Electric extended their early losses to 1 1-2 points each, while U S Cast Iron Pipe, American Radiator, Central Leather preferred, Marine preferred, Corn Products and Mack Truck were added to the list of stocks to sell a point or so below yesterday's final figures. Call money opened at 3 1-2 per cent

Desultory price movements characterized today's stock market, one of the dullest full day sessions this year. Oils yielded readily to selling pressure on reports of another increase in crude production. Allied exchanges were decidedly weak. Sales approximated 500,000 shares

The closing was irregular.

PIPE IS PAINTED

He asked the prisoner what his occupation was. Clark replied he was an interior decorator

Fine,' concluded the mayor "that settles it. There's a 120-foot standpipe at Waterworks park that need painting. Go to work Thursday morning and when the stack is painted your fine will be paid

Clark went to work early Thursday morning. He figures it'll be about three weeks before he and the city will be square

TWO HURT

CONTINENTAL — Venus Foley and Floyd Wagner of Dupont suffered painful cuts and bruises when the auto in which they were driving overturned. The accident occurred while making a sharp turn in the road just east of Dupont.

The cause is thought to have been a defective steering gear, the driver losing control and plunging the car into the ditch. The machine was badly wrecked.

PRICES OF WHEAT ON DECLINE

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Slight Losses in Corn Quotations Also Registered

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — All grain showed a downward tendency in price today during the early dealings. Commission houses were generally on the selling side. In the wheat market, trade was broader than of late, with the chief bearish factors the outlook regarding farm legislation at Washington and the reported virtual collapse of the Argentine strike. Wheat opening prices which ranged from ⅛ to ¾c lower, May $1.03⅝ to 1.04 and July $1.05¾ to 1.06 were followed by a slight further decline.

Corn dropped to nearly 75 cents for May delivery, the lowest price in some time. Buying support became less in evidence as the fall of values continued with standing orders being automatically forced into action to stop losses at certain levels. After opening ⅛ to ¼c off, May 75¾ to 76c and July 77⅛c, the market rallied a little but then underwent a material setback.

Oats started at a shade to ⅛c lower, July 44⅛ and later made a further descent.

Provisions were steadied by an upturn in hog values.

Final wheat quotations were unsettled 3-8 to 3-4c net lower. May $1.03 3-4 and July $1.05 5-8 to 1.05 5-8@3-4

The corn market closed unsettled 3-4c net lower to 1-4c advance, May 75 7-8 to 76 and July 76 5-8 to 76 5-8@3-4.

9 PRISONERS UP BEFORE COURT

All Enter Not Guilty Pleas to Grand Jury Indictments

HEARING TO BE IN JUNE

Two Liquor Cases on Docket for Court Disposition

OTTAWA — Nine of the ten prisoners indicted by the recent January grand jury in special session, were arraigned this week before Judge Fred Wolf and allowed to plead to the charges contained in the indictments.

Each said they were not guilty and all declared they would stand trial.

"I only stood on the outside and caught the goods as they flew thru the window." This was the explanation Tony Martin, negro gave of his alleged participation in the robbery of Fischer's store in Townwood.

He was indicted on a charge of burglary. His bond was set at $500. A. Slaybaugh was appointed by the court to defend him.

Eugene Trice, of Columbus Grove, indicted on a charge of forgery in passing he was not guilty told the court he was not able financially to employ an attorney to defend him and Albert Straman was appointed by the court to act as his lawyer.

Dewey Conine and Vernon Dangler indicted for larceny of a quantity of clover seed from an Ottawa-ip farmer, entered not guilty pleas and are under bail. Bond of Conine was set at $600 and that for Dangler at $100.

TWO BOOZE HEARINGS

Leroy O. Bohrer, farmer residing in Columbus Grove pleaded on a charge of incest and with mistreating his step-son-law reserved the right to withdraw his plea of not guilty and file a motion to quash the indictment. Bond was set at $1,000.

Max Sheets, James Porterfield and Floyd Ordway, all of whom were indicted on a charge of manufacturing distilled liquors, declares they were not guilty. Bond for each was set at $2,000.

Porterfield and Ordway were arrested following a raid in Putnam-co by state prohibition enforcement agents in which a still and a quantity of liquor was found on the upper floor of a house on the farm of Julius S. Dean county prosecutor which the men had leased. This was located near Belfreyville.

Kingsbury Murray pleaded not guilty to abandonment of a woman in a delicate condition of health the person offering the complaint being Mrs Maud Murray his wife.

Judge Eastman will set the time of the trial of each at a later date, after he concludes his work in Cleveland.

The person against whom the other indictment was returned is not yet under arrest.

Never Again

YOUR forefather's bathtub was the creek. He mirrored his face in a basin of water and made his fire with a flint. His Ford was a horse's shanks, his electric light a wick in tallow, his telephone a shrill shouting through his hands. He hewed for his furniture, spun for his clothes, tilled, sewed, reaped, ground, mixed, baked for his bread. When he died, not a newspaper printed the news, and his possessions were too few for a will.

You'll never have to go back to his old discomforts. Not while printed pages are available. News and advertising have carried far the story of new inventions. Every day more are added, more things for use, for comfort, for enjoyment.

BABY CHICKS

Special Notice

On and after April 21, we will do custom hatching at the rate of $4.00 per tray of 150 eggs. No less than 1 tray accepted. Eggs should be brought to the hatchery on Monday and Wednesday of each week. We have pleased many customers on custom hatches this season. Write or phone for reservation.

Remember

we are reliable producers of quality baby chicks. We have to be, otherwise we could not retain our membership in the International Baby Chick Assn.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Missouri.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken twelve bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

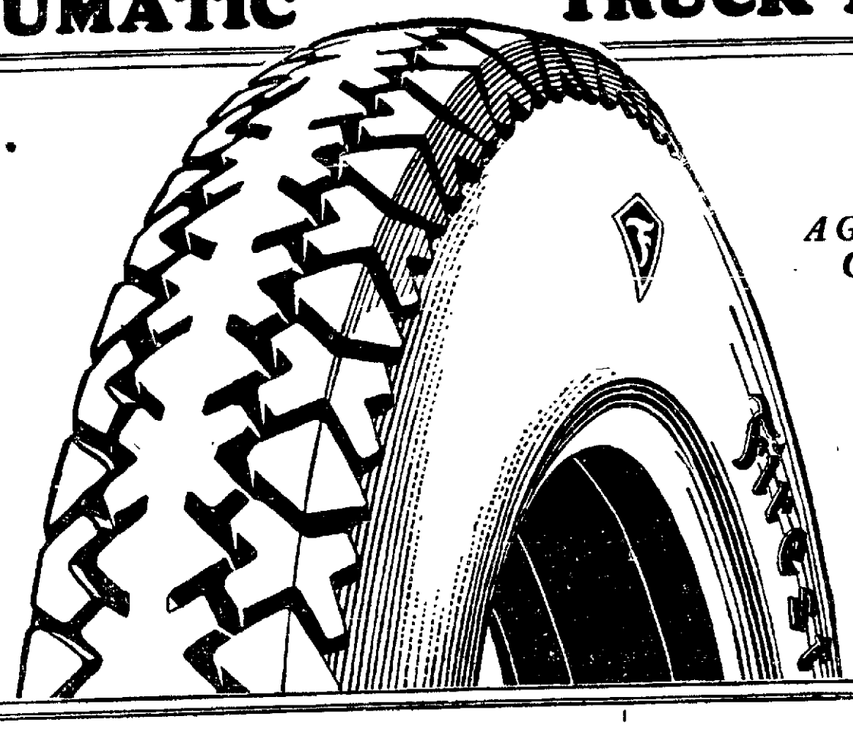
Firestone
PNEUMATIC TRUCK TIRE



A Gum-Dipped Cord Tire

The Mark of Quality

Expert Service Cuts Truck Operating Costs

Our job is to reduce the cost of operation for all kinds of trucking enterprises. We have not only the facilities for speedy, efficient, economical service; but we also have the complete line of Firestone truck tires for every road, load, and condition of service.

Discuss your trucking problems with us. If the conditions require a pneumatic tire, we recommend the Firestone Pneumatic Truck Tire. The Firestone gum-dipping process gives it unusual strength and enduring qualities. This means thorough dependability and long mileage—most important factors in truck operation expense.

If you knew the construction of this tire as we do, you would never use any other. The special reinforced ply arrangement or "tie-in" stiffens the bead and carries the flexing up into the side-walls, thus reducing strains and wear. The semi-flat tread gives astonishing traction and maximum loading capacity.

But whether you use pneumatics, cushions, or solids we are ready to supply you with the right tire for your needs. As truck tire experts we can quickly tell you which type of truck tire will give you the most ton-miles per dollar. There is a Firestone tire, or combination of tires, which will do this without sacrificing the cushioning qualities your truck and load require.

Consultation costs you nothing. Get into touch with us without delay.
